In remembrance of a towering figure

Ustad Alauddin Khan's death anniversary observed

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Brahmanbaria

The 37th death anniversary of Sur Samrat Ustad Alauddin Khan was held in a befitting manner at Brahmanbaria on September 6.

The programme was organised by Brahmanbaria Municipality. Earlier at a council meeting, Brahmanbaria Municipal Auditorium was renamed Sur Samrat Ustad Alauddin Khan Poura Milonayaton. The foundation stone of the auditorium was unveiled and the auditorium was inaugurated by local MP advocate Lutful Hye.

Brahmanbaria Municipality Mayor Mohammad Hafizur Rahman presided over the inaugural programme, while Shashanka Shakhor Bhawmik was the special guest.

The meeting was addressed, among others, by Brahmanbaria Upazila chairman Bashir Ullah; Upazila vice-chairman Mamtaj Bashar; Professor Mukhlesur Rahman, former principal of Brahmanbaria Government College; former Municipality chairman, Al-Mamun Sarker; Brahmanbaria Press Club president Muhammad Arzoo; AL leader Amanul Haque and Muhammad Musa.

Advocate Lutful Hye told the gathering that a complex named after Ustad Alauddin Khan would soon be built on three acres of land in the district town.

Later in the evening, an iftar and special prayers were held to mark the death anniversary of the legendary musician.

Ustad Alauddin Khan was born in 1862 at Shibpur village under Nabinagar Upazila of the district. He died in 1972 at Mailhar in India.

Pixar wins Lifetime Award at Venice Film Festival

AP, Venice

The Venice Film Festival's red carpet was festooned with balloons on Sunday to mark the lifetime achievement award for director and producer John Lasseter and his crew of Pixar directors.

They were rewarded for their work creating a new generation of childhood memories populated with Nemo, Woody and Sulley. It is the first time in festival history that the award honoured not just one filmmaker but an entire studio.

Pixar, founded in 1986 and based in northern California, pioneered digital computer animation and has made 10 feature films to date, four of which have won Oscars since the animation category was introduced in 2001.

"We really set out to deeply entertain an audience, not just children but adults as well," Lasseter told reporters Sunday.

Lasseter said he was "tremendously honoured" that the festival chose to give the award to the team of five Pixar directors, including Brad Bird ("Ratatouille" and "The Incredibles"), Pete Docter ("Up" and "Monsters Inc."), Andrew Stanton ("Finding Nemo" and "Wall-E"), and Lee Unkrich ("Toy Story 3"). Lasseter directed the first two "Toy Story" movies and "Cars."

"Filmmaking and animation is one of the most collaborative art forms there is in the world, and it is never more collaborative than it is at Pixar," Lasseter said.

Lasseter posed with life-size Carl and Russell, the stars of Pixar's latest runaway hit "Up" on a red carpet imprinted with the Italian logos for Pixar's hits, "The Incredibles," "Up," "Finding Nemo" and the upcoming "Toy Story 3," before receiving the Golden Lion from George Lucas, who helped launch Pixar.

"I think anybody else when they sell a company and the company goes on to be very successful, they would feel like they missed out," Lasseter said. "George Lucas is so proud of us and we are so thankful to him. He is a true visionary."

To mark the occasion, the festival premiered 3D versions of "Toy Story" and "Toy Story 2," which are set for theatrical release in the U.S. later in the fall. Children given a rare invite to the festival usually reserved for adults grabbed up free kites and posed next to a life-size model of Woody made out of Legos. Some came dressed as scouts, in homage to Russell.

Pixar merged with Disney three years ago, making Lasseter chief creative for both Pixar and Disney animation, where he is reintroducing hand-drawn animation.

"I felt like if there is a studio in the world who should be doing the highest quality hand-drawn animation, it is the studio that started it all, Disney," Lasseter said. A few minutes of the first project, "The Princess and the Frog," was screening Sunday evening at Venice, marking the first time it will be seen outside of Pixar, Lasseter said.

An upcoming Pixar film breaks the studio mould of male characters as the central protagonist after its successful string of beloved male figures, from Nemo to Woody to Lightning McQueen. Lasseter said "The Bear and the Bow" is Pixar's first fairy tale, a mother-daughter story set in Scotland and directed by filmmaker Brenda Chapman.

"We believe very strongly in having really strong female characters," Lasseter said, then explaining why it hasn't happened yet: "I mean you are looking at a bunch of guys up here."

The painting competition is titled 'Esho Anki Banglar Mukh'. Some 500 children from different educational institutions of the region took part in the competition in two groups. Of them, six were selected from groups 'Ka' and 'Kha' for the next round. The competition generated much enthusiasm among the child artists and their guardians.

The subject for the children in the 'Ka' group was open, while the competitors for the 'Kha' group drew pictures of the scenic beauty of Bangla-

Eminent painter of the country Hashem Khan was present as chief judge. Ananda Alo editor Rezanur

Rahman, assistant keeper of Shilpacharya Zainul Abedin Sangrahashala, Dulal Chandra Gain and District Children's Affairs Officer Farida Yasmin attended the function as guests. Zakir Hasan coordinated the function.

Earlier, a discussion was held. The speakers said that today's children are the future nation-builders and they will accomplish what we could not. They added that it is best not to put pressure on children and they should be allowed to enhance their creativity. We desperately need brilliant minds such as Shilpacharya Zainul Abedin and Satyajit Ray today and this vacuum can only be filled by these budding talents, said the speakers.

The day's programme began with rendering of songs by child artists of the local Nazrul Academy.

Parents and guardians of the young participants were also present at the competition.

All programmes are in local time.
