

Eid shopping frenzy in Chittagong

DWAIKAYAN BARUA

With Eid only a few days away, shopping gains momentum in Chittagong.

Around 200 markets including 15 posh shopping malls, arcades, different fashion and boutique houses as well as the makeshift stalls on footpaths at different parts of the city are bustling from morning to late night.

Eid shopping in the port city this year was relatively good from the very beginning of the holy month of Ramadan in comparison with the previous years.

As Durga Puja -- the major religious festival of the Hindus -- will follow the Eid-ul-Fitr this time, almost all the shopping malls are experiencing huge crowd of consumers from both the communities from morning to late night.

When markets are gripped by Eid shopping fever, price hike of products is frustrating most of the middle and low income buyers and forcing them to cut their budgets and to shorten their lists.

People of well-off section who are in search of latest fashion in design and colour are thronging the posh shopping malls like New Market (Bipani Bitan), Amin Centre, Sanmar Ocean City, Yunusco Centre, VIP Tower, Central Plaza, Mimi Super Market, Highway Plaza, Central Plaza, Chittagong Shopping Complex, Moti Tower, Moti Complex as well as some popular outlets like Pride, Aarong, Anjan's, Mia Bibi, K-crafts, Westecs, Revlon, Cat's Eye, Matra, Nari and Menz Club.

Middle class customers usually like to shop at Reazuddin Bazar, Lucky Plaza, Chawk View Market, Terri Bazar, Tamakumandi Lane Bazar, Bay Shopping Centre, Singapore-Bangkok Market and other markets since necessary items are found at reasonable price here.

Jahur Hawker Market and makeshift shops set up by hawkers at a number of city points, however, remains the most popular outlet for the lower middle class and the poor.

Among the Eid-attires, sarees are in top demand for the female customers this year while Punjabis, as usual, for the male.

Keeping consumers' demands in mind, traders showcased both the local and Indian sarees including cotton, silk, synthetic, georgette, katan, benarosi, zamdani, zardoushy and tissue.

Saree with brand name 'Moha Utsab' are selling at Tk 20,000 to Tk 30,000 while chiffon sarees are available at Tk 5,000 to Tk 10,000.

Traders at Terry Bazar are selling Moslin-Benarosi brand saree, a fusion of the two popular products, at Tk 3,000 to Tk 7,000.

Three-piece decorated with different artistic patterns, with brand names like Masakkali has become craze among the young and teenage girls this year.

Masakkali for the children are selling at Tk 3000 while the same brand made for the teenaged girls are selling at Tk 3000 to Tk 18,000.

Other popular brands of three-piece drawing attraction are Sania Mirza, Saregamapa, Delhi Silk and Girl Friend.

Farzana Abedin, a varsity student, managed to buy a Masakkali brand three-piece at Tk 2500 from Sanmar Ocean City after bargaining with the trader. She said traders are charging higher rates for products taking advantage of the frenzied mood among the shoppers.

Male persons both children and adult are looking for short panjabis than the taller ones. Decorated Dubai Panjabi is selling at Tk 2000 to Tk 4000 while younger section is gathering at popular outlets like Khadighar and Paristhan that showcased attractive and colourful panjabis.

They are also thronging the fashion houses and popular posh outlets for T-shirt, pant, shirt, kameej and other dresses.

Handibazar, a popular outlet, is offering shirt for males ranging from Tk 1950 to Tk 3000, T-shirt at Tk 600 to Tk 700, panjabi at Tk 750 to Tk 950 and pants at Tk 850 to Tk 1050.

Short panjabis are selling at these outlets at Tk 1200 to Tk 2800 while Indian Dhutian Panjabi is selling at Tk 3,100 to Tk 5,500.

Amin centre, first air-conditioned market in the port city, is drawing attention of the consumers by offering prizes against buying of products.

Traders Association leaders of the market said they have arranged uninterrupted electricity supply only to serve the customers.

Taking permission from the authorities concerned around 20,000 hawkers have set up makeshift shops on footpath again at different city points offering a scope for thousands of buyers from lower middle class and lower class.

20,000 acres of CHT land brought under rubber cultivation

At least 20,000 acres of land have been brought under rubber cultivation in Chittagong Hill Tracts (CHT).

Chittagong Hill Tracts Development Board (CHTDB) has raised a rubber garden on some 15,000 acres of land while rubber cultivation is going on some 5000 acres of land under private initiative, sources said.

CHTDB sources said trees of the garden grew over the last 29-30 years since 1979-1980 and are not matured enough to yield full production.

It has about 26 lakh rubber plants on 13200 acres of land with some 200 rubber trees on each acre of land under the project while rest of the land is being used for other purposes. Production started at the CHTDB garden in 1992 and earned Tk 5 crore annually on an average.

Some 5 lakh rubber plants are also growing on 5,000 acres of land under private initiative, sources said.

Amiya Kanti Roaza, assistant general manager of the CHTDB Rubber Gardens project, said there is no bad effect of rubber garden. If the gardens are harmful to human body, government would never initiate such a project to financially benefit some 5,000 people, he added.

Taher Group Chairman MA Taher presided over the meeting at Karna Phuli Community Centre where Managing Director M Manzur Alam Manzu, also the former acting mayor of Chittagong City Corporation, made the address of welcome.

He called upon the entrepreneurs to recognise the contribution of construction workers and think about their welfare.

in rubber gardens mostly suffer from various skin diseases. He said most of the farmers are not getting proper benefits due to mismanagement and irregularities by a section of corrupt officials.

General Manager of Rubber Project Mohammad Ali Hyder said most of the rubber cultivation has been continuing on the unused land where no other crops can be cultivated. Many farmers have been benefited it, he said.

He said there is no impact on environment or health hazard following rubber cultivation as the rubber trees are green.

Deputy Director of District Agriculture Extension Mohammad Abdul Malek said government should start fruit orchard on the land where rubber cultivation is going on as the farmers can be benefited from fruit orchards in 5 years.

He said 'even birds or animals do not eat the fruits or green leaves of rubber for its bad effect while no birds make nests inside rubber gardens.'

"Rubber is an industrial, labourious and long desired product. Without hard labour farmers can't be benefited while they can easily be benefited from any fruits or woods garden in a short time," he said.

Divisional Forest Officer (DFO) Ali Kabir said the project could not serve its purposes due to lack of a proper management, he said.

Mujahids, priests receive honorarium

Mujahids and priests engaged in switching on and off the streetlights of Chittagong City Corporation (CCC) received Tk 13.33 lakh as honorarium on Saturday.

Mayor ABM Mohiuddin Chowdhury handed over the money to mujahids and priests at a simple function for manning 1111 switching points in the city streets alongside conducting prayers and religious activities at the mosques, temples and churches.

Mohiuddin said there were streetlights in only 18 wards before all the 41 wards could be provided with streetlights in 1994.

Earlier, technicians were recruited each with a monthly salary of Tk 4320 and one person had to work at several switching points, causing wastage of power for two hours a day.

Manning of the existing 1111 streetlights by the technicians could have cost the CCC several times higher than what spent as honorarium to the mujahids and priests, said the sources.

ZOBAER HOSSAIN STICKER

Ahead of Eid most households in the city's Chakai Chamrongdum area become busy making vermicelli. Vermicelli hanging from bamboos in the sun is a common sight at most of the rooftops of this area at this time. Mostly the poor people of the city and those coming from villages are main consumers of the vermicelli produced in an unhygienic condition.
