Govt to ensure rule of law Hopes DUVC

DU CORRESPONDENT

Dhaka University (DU) Vice Chancellor Prof AAMS Arefin Siddique yesterday hoped that the government would ensure rule of law and strengthen democracy through its work in next four years and implement its adopted plans in next four years involving people.

He said this while he was speaking at launching ceremony of a book titled "Mohajote Sarker: Din Bodaler Ek Bachhar" (Grand alliance government: One year of Charter of Change) edited by Centre for National and Regional Studies at Dhaka Reporters' Unity. Swaraz Prakashoni published the book.

Prof Arefin congratulated the Awami League-led 14-party grand alliance government for taking a number of positive steps and implementing a few of these properly during its one year tenure.

"The government in one year has taken some revolutionary decisions and implemented them properly. It has set example by establishing an independent information commission and distributing 19 crore books to students," he said.

It is a good sign that the government is giving maximum importance to education sector, he added.

The book contains 76 newspaper stories on the government's initiatives and decisions and 24 speeches of Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina given at different programmes in last one year.
