"My Name is Khan" runs into trouble

"My Name is Khan", slated to be Bollywood's biggest blockbuster of the year, is seemingly running into trouble even before its release on February 12. Lead actor Shah Rukh Khan has run afoul of the Shiv Sena the Mumbai-based hardline group for supporting the participation of Pakistani cricketers in the Indian Premier League. The group has threatened to disrupt the screening of the film in Mumbai unless Khan apologises for his stand.

back down. Khan, who was on a promotional tour of New York and London said that he stood by his statement. Hollywood studio Fox Star which is to distribute the Bollywood film is just as concerned because the Shah Rukh-Kajol starrer is the studios' first Bollywood release and comes close on the heels of success of "Avatar". Trade analysts believe that there is at least Rs 1.2 billion riding on the film and if Mumbai and by inference Maharashtra is affected, it would affect almost 25 percent of the film's cinema revenues.

Meanwhile theatre owners in Mumbai are believed to be in two minds about whether they will screen the film unless all the controversial issues are resolved.

Should such question marks be dealt with when Shah Rukh and Kajol are clearly heading towards their biggest blockbuster after "Dilwale Dulhaniya Le Jayenge"? The much awaited film will have a star studded screening at this year's 60th Berlin International Film Festival, Meanwhile gutsy Khan refuses to believed to be one of the oldest film festivals in the world, starting February 11-21. However, the Karan Johar directed film is not in the competition section.

Even if the Shiv Sena has its way in Mumbai, the film is set to be released in over 40 countries including the US, Canada, UK, Australia, New Zealand and the Middle East on February 12.

The film centres on Rizvan Khan, who embarks on an amazing journey across America to win back the love of his life. Along the way, his unique
