Land minister tells symposium

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Land Minister Rezaul Karim Hira underscored the need for working together with a view to bringing reforms in agriculture sector to establish Bangladesh as a middle-income and self-reliant country by 2013.

"Agro-based industrialisation will contribute significantly to eradicating poverty from the country in future. We will have to bring overall reforms in the agriculture sector to have sustainable development. Aimed at reaching the goal, we all should work together to establish Bangladesh a middle-income and self-reliant country."

The minister said this as the chief guest at the inaugural session of a three-day 'Agriculture Symposium' organised by Campaign for Sustainable Rural Livelihoods (CSRL) at the National Press Club in the city yesterday.

He said the government is pledge-bound to provide all kinds of facilities to farmers, as they play the pioneering role in making the rural economy vibrant, which is the prerequisite to eradicate poverty.

Hira stressed the need for creating employment opportunities for the rural people out of agriculture sector, as an ever-increasing number of farmers are putting tremendous efforts in the sector.

The government will introduce computerised digital system soon for preserving land survey records to recognise landowners, the minister added.

He talked about different projects undertaken by the government for developing the life standards of the rural people, facilitating farmers, rehabilitation of the homeless people and fishermen.

He blamed the last BNP-Jamaat government for stopping all the welfare projects taken by the previous Awami League (AL) government.

Bangladesh Economic Association President Dr Quazi Kholiuzzaman Ahmad underlined the importance of improving health and education of farmers as well as the financial development for the betterment of the agriculture sector.

Jatiya Samajtantrik Dal President Hasnul Haque Inu also laid emphasis on promoting social economy for changing the fate of farmers and development of the sector.

Workers Menon of Bangladesh President Rashed Khan Menon urged the government to implement the law to ensure minimum wage for the farmers.

Presenting a keynote paper, Monowar Mustafa, secretary of Development Synergy Institute, made a set of recommendations for the development of the agriculture sector.

The recommendations include providing quality fertiliser, restarting a number of irrigation projects of Water Development Board and introduction of easy loan system for farmers.

India ready to review new visa rules

PALLAB BHATTACHARYA, New Delhi

India yesterday said it was ready to review the new guidelines for granting tourist and conference visas if there were genuine grievances.

Indian Home Secretary Gopal K Pillai said the government has received a number of representations requesting it to reconsider the revised guidelines.

"Government makes rules, government makes regulations which may not be correct. But in a democracy, there is a system. We correct ourselves if a mistake is made," he said at a seminar on 'Thought policing or fighting terror; Home ministry's curbs on foreign scholars'.

Under the present guidelines, a tourist cannot return to India within 60 days of his exit from the country.

Later, Pillai told reporters that "we have received a number of representations (on conference visa) and we are examining them. This is under consideration".

According to the revised guidelines for conference visas, prior security clearance from the home ministry is required in respect of participants from Afghanistan, Bangladesh, China, Iran, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Iraq and Sudan, foreigners of Pakistani origin and stateless persons.

Besides, the home ministry's clearance is also required if the participation involves visit to restricted or protected areas in India or to areas affected by terrorism, militancy and extremism like Jammu and Kashmir and northeastern states, and if the conference involves politically sensitive subjects.

Referring to restrictions imposed on issuing tourist visa, the home secretary said the government was open to amend any rules if there was any "mistake".

Pillai wondered how many of the six million genuine tourists, who visit India every year, would like to come back to India within 60 days?

Premier University Classes, exams of BBA faculty suspended

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

The authorities of Premier University yesterday suspended the academic activities of BBA Faculty until March 12 as its students continued their agitation for the last three days protesting resignation of their dean.

The agitating students vowed to continue their movement until the authorities reject the resignation letter of the dean.

They blamed Chittagong University (CU) Vice Chancellor (VC) Prof Abu Yusuf, also a member of the Premier University Governing Body, for forcing Dean Milton Kumar Bhattacharjee to resign.

The authorities of the private university run by Chittagong City Corporation (CCC) in a press release yesterday declared that all the academic activities and examinations have been suspended till Friday.

The CCC-run CNG refuelling station located on the ground floor of the varsity resumed around 4:30pm after three days in the presence of police and Rab members.

The agitating students later formed a human chain at Chittagong Press Club. They also brought out a protest procession at 6:30pm demanding the authorities to reinstate the dean.

Earlier in the morning, the students at a press conference blamed that the CU VC earlier forced chairmen of different departments, including chairmen of Law department Dr Badruddin, English department Dr Mohit Ullah and Computer Science department Dr Mihir Kumar Roy, to resign from their posts in a bid to appoint his chosen persons in the respective departments.

In his latest attempt, Prof Yusuf forced the popular dean of BBA Faculty to resign while some teachers of the faculty, including Razia Sultana and Mir Tarikul Alam, also assisted him through a conspiracy against Dr Milton to malign his image, they alleged.

The CU VC, however, could not be reached for his comment on the allegation since his mobile phone was found switched off.
