

BILATERAL TALKS WITH US Drone attack issue to be discussed: Pakistan Giving drones would change US image

ANI, AFP, Lahore/Washington

Pakistan's Interior Minister Rehman Malik has reiterated that the US drone attacks in the lawless tribal areas along the Afghanistan border are being carried out without Islamabad's consent and the issue would be raised with Washington during bilateral discussions.

Talking to media persons outside the Lahore High Court, where he had appeared in connection with an accountability court's conviction, Malik claimed the US has assured Pakistan to provide it drone technology.

Responding to a question on the recent series of blasts in Lahore, Malik said: "No one should accuse foreigners for such incidents without evidence."

Malik said that the probe into the incident was underway and a report would come out soon, The Daily Times reports.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister Shah Mehmood Qureshi said Thursday that the United States would improve its public standing if it let Islamabad spearhead drone attacks.

Mehmood Qureshi, in Washington for high-level talks, acknowledged in a CNN interview that drone attacks by US forces against Islamic extremists on Pakistani soil have "taken out some valuable targets."

"We want the ownership. We make the decision when to operate," he said. "It will help improve the feelings in Pakistan."

Asked if the United States had agreed to his request, he said: "I don't think so."

The United States has carried out nearly 100 attacks with unmanned drones in Pakistan since August 2008, killing more than 830 people. Figures range widely on how many civilians have been killed.

US authorities have given Pakistan surveillance drones but have hesitated at giving them lethal drones, which are run remotely by Americans.

Huge blaze at Indian army munitions depot

AFP, Kolkata

A fire ripped through one of the Indian army's largest ammunition depots yesterday, destroying 150 tonnes of explosives and ammunition, military sources said.

Military spokesman Mahesh Upasani said the blaze broke out at the Panagarh army base 120 kilometres (75 miles) west of Kolkata at 1:30 am but had since been brought under control.

People living in the area reported hearing a series of huge explosions that went on for more than an hour.

"It was an incredible sound," Kashinath Chatterjee, who lives in Bud Bh village nearby, told AFP by telephone. "Panic-stricken villagers came out of their homes and stood on the highway."

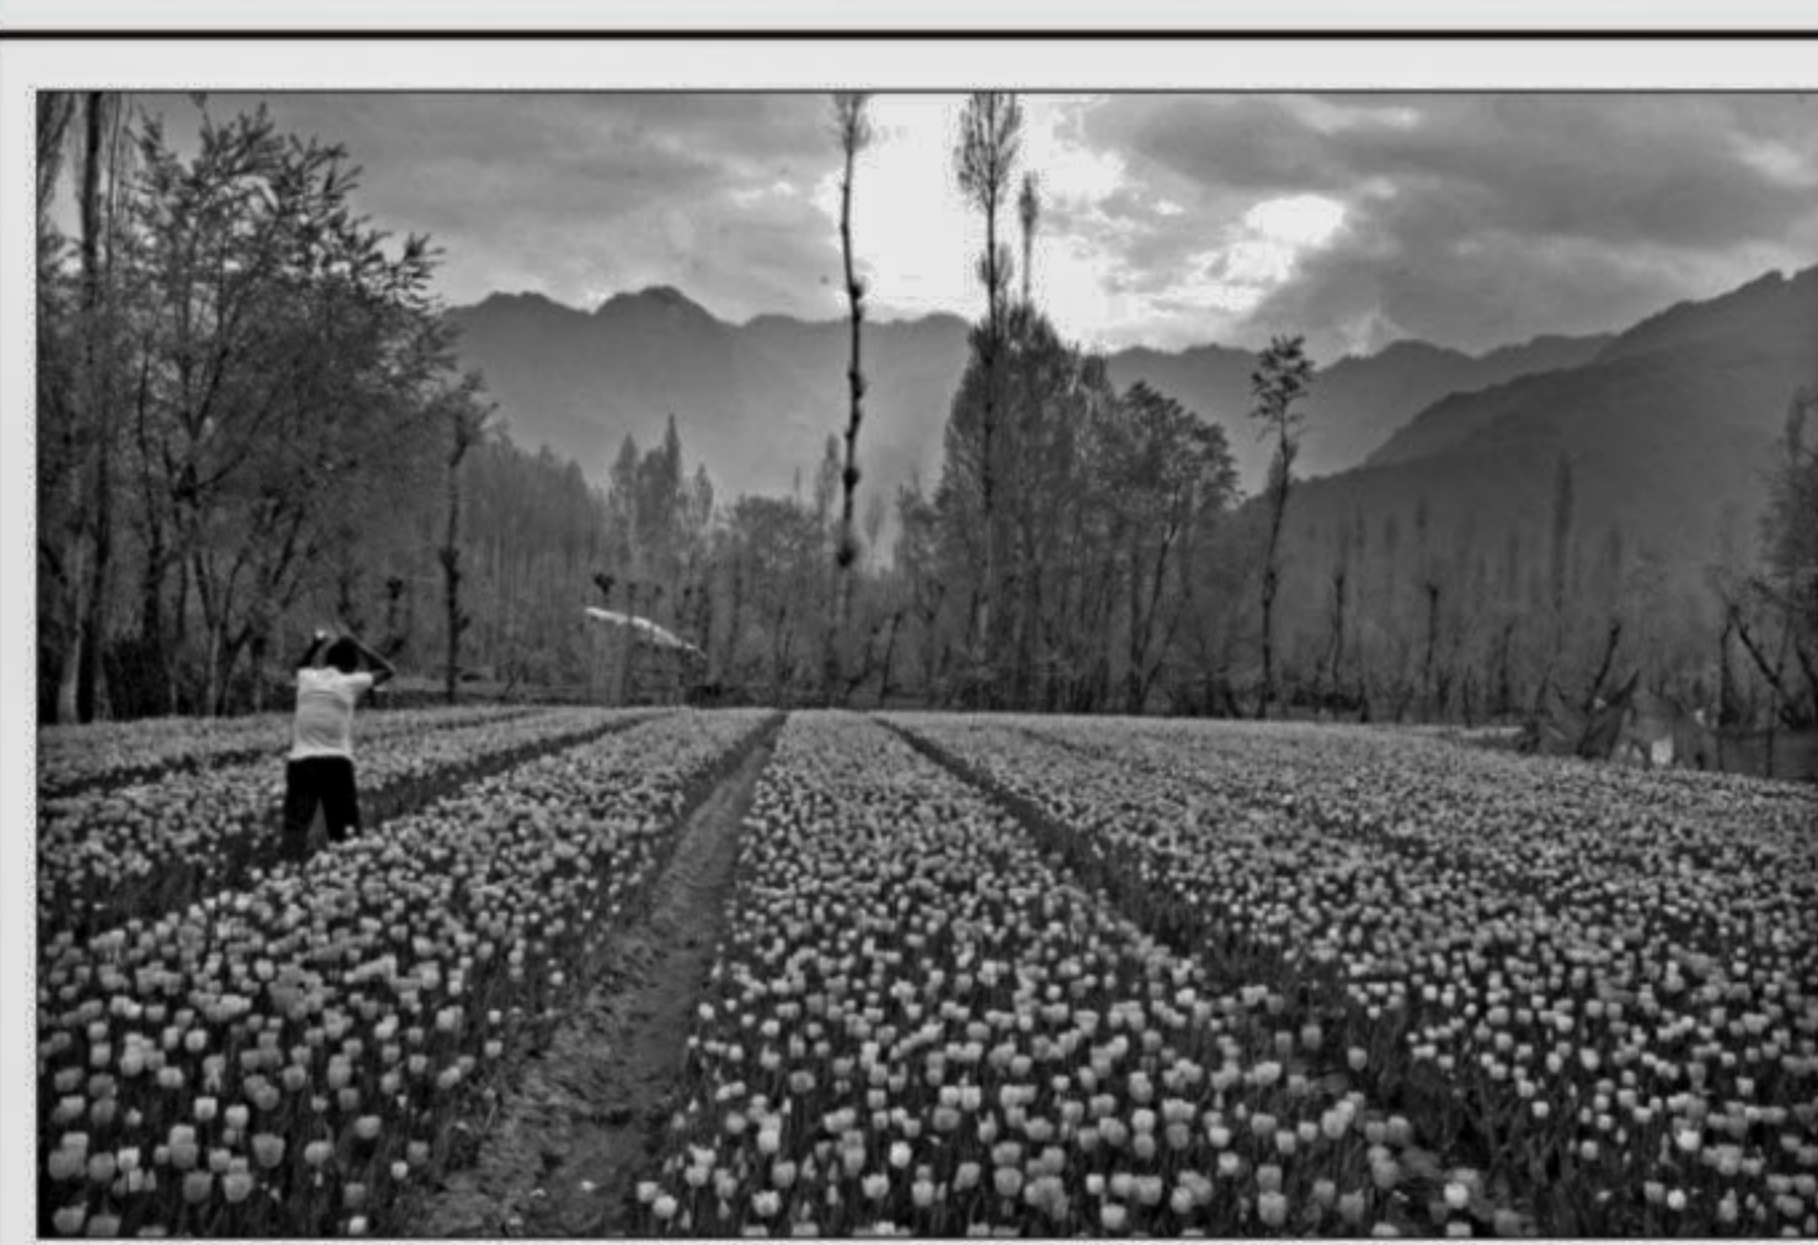

KASHMIR TALKS Mixed reaction evoked on Pakistan's offer

ANI, Srinagar

The Pakistani Government's invitation to some Hurriyat Conference leaders to come for talks to resolve the Kashmir issue has evoked a mixed reaction in Jammu and Kashmir.

Abdul Gani Bhat, a senior Hurriyat leader, played down the invite asserting that a resolution of the Kashmir issue would come only through talks.

"If you ask me, I am very interested that people (Kashmiri leaders) should go there (Pakistan) and talk. People should come here and talk. They should talk here and go there, so that the process of dialogue can begin and a solution emerges," said Bhat.

Kashmir, known for its mountains, lakes, forests and moderate weather, was one of Asia's most popular tourist destinations until an insurgency against Indian rule in 1989 which has claimed more than 47,000 lives, according to an official count.

Kashmir's tulip garden open for visitors

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE, Srinagar

Kashmir's tulip garden, where the flowers are in full bloom, was thrown open for visitors in summer capital Srinagar, an official said Thursday.

"The garden has become a major attraction and an ideal visiting spot for both tourists and locals," said Sheikh Farhan, assistant floriculture officer.

The idea of a tulip garden in Kashmir was originally envisaged by Ghulam Nabi Azad, the Union health minister who was chief minister of the state in 2007.

Japan pushes Myanmar to hold free polls

AFP, Tokyo

Japanese Foreign Minister Katsuya Okada summoned yesterday an ambassador from Myanmar to tell the military junta to hold a free election including Aung San Suu Kyi.

Okada told ambassador Hla Myint that Japan "extremely regretted" the junta's decision to bar anyone serving a prison term from being a member of an official party, in effect excluding Suu Kyi from what will be the first national polls in 20 years.

"This clearly differs from a free election that all stakeholders can participate, as Japan wishes," Okada told a press conference. Okada said he will discuss the issue next week with fellow foreign ministers at the Group of Eight meeting in Canada, including US Secretary of State Hillary Clinton.

Pakistan's nuke ambitions give US leverage

AFP, Washington

Pakistan's hopes for civil nuclear cooperation have been a non-starter in Washington, but experts say the United States can use it as a dangling carrot as it seeks influence in Islamabad.

The two nations Thursday wrapped up a first-of-a-kind "strategic dialogue," which the United States hopes will show Pakistan's widely anti-American public that it cares about the country beyond seeking help against Islamic extremists.

US officials stayed carefully on message, pledging respect for Pakistan and never explicitly saying no to its requests -- a refusal that would have been sure to steal the headlines.

Pakistan is seeking a civilian nuclear deal along the lines of a landmark agreement that the United States struck with India in 2008. The South Asian rivals stunned the world in 1998 by carrying out nuclear tests.

BABRI MOSQUE DEMOLITION Advani back in the dock

PALLAB BHATTACHARYA, AFP, New Delhi

The demolition of Babri mosque 12 years ago has returned to haunt senior BJP leader L K Advani when a lady Indian Police Service (IPS) officer yesterday told a court that he had given a provocative speech in Ayodhya, moments before the demolition of the mosque.

"On December 6, 1992, Advani gave a spirited speech from Ram Katha Kunj, barely 150-200 metres from the disputed site which charged the people", IPS officer Anju Gupta testified before the court.

"He repeatedly said the temple would be constructed at the same site," she said during her two-hour statement before Chief Judicial Magistrate Gulab Singh in the court in Rae Bareilly in northern Indian state of Uttar Pradesh.

Gupta, who was the personal security officer of Advani in Ayodhya on December 6, 1992, appeared as a prosecution witness before a special Central Bureau of Investigation court in which JP leader Advani, B Muri Manohar Joshi, Uma Bharti and other Sangh Parivar BJP leaders have been accused of stirring violence that had led to the demolition of the mosque.

Advani, a former deputy prime minister, was discharged in the case in 2002 after the conspiracy charge was dropped. But three years later, the Lucknow bench of Allahabad High Court restored the charges against him for intentionally "provoking people into rioting and arson" and "creating discord among communities."

The destruction of the 16th century mosque by Hindu fanatics in the northern town of Ayodhya triggered some of the worst Hindu-Muslim violence since the partition of the Indian sub-continent in 1947. Around 2,000 people were killed in the communal riots, which left an enormous tear in India's secular fabric and permanently tarnished 82-year-old Advani and fellow figures from the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP).
