Asian shares gain high

AFP, Hong Kong

Asian shares advanced in thin Easter holiday trading on a weaker yen and a more upbeat economic outlook for manufacturers, as markets expected positive US jobs data later Friday.

Tokyo's Nikkei closed up 0.37 percent while Shanghai rose 0.33 percent and Taipei added 0.16 percent. Seoul advanced 0.25 percent at the close.

Japan's Dai-ichi Life Insurance, which saw a huge debut Thursday, continued to rise, settling up 1.56 percent at 162,500 yen. It "will likely keep rising next week", an analyst said.

The insurer made its debut Thursday at 160,000 yen against an IPO price of 140,000 yen.

Chinese shares closed up 0.33 percent in cautious trade with mining stocks leading the gains amid expectations of increasing demand, dealers said.

The Shanghai Composite Index, which covers both A and B shares, was up 10.54 points at 3,157.96 on turnover of 150.1 billion yuan (22.0 billion dollars).

It was the index's highest closing level since it hit 3,158.86 on January 21. The key index gained 3.2 percent over the week, its biggest weekly gain in 10 weeks.

The Taiwan weighted index closed up 12.84 points or 0.16 percent at 8,025,93 amid rotational buying, dealers said.

South Korean shares closed 0.25 percent higher, with gains in blue chips on expectations of good first-quarter earnings.

The benchmark KOSPI ended up 4.32 points at 1,723.49.

In Malaysia, the Kuala Lumpur Composite Index gained 0.46 percent, or 6.10 points, to close at 1,335.94.

The Thai market lost 0.02 percent or 0.17 points to close at 801.15 points.

Banpu shed 2.00 baht to close at 628.00 baht, and Bangkok Bank dropped 2.00 baht to end at 128.00 baht.

Markets were closed for a public holiday in Australia, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, New Zealand, the Philippines and Singapore.

GM, Hartford repay $4.4b of bailout money

AP, Washington

US Treasury Department said automaker General Motors Co. and insurer Hartford Financial Services Group Inc. have repaid billions of bailout dollars.

Treasury says GM repaid $1 billion of $6.7 billion in loans it received as part of a $50 billion rescue. Hartford repaid its entire $3.4 billion bailout.

The money came from a $700 billion bailout that Congress passed in October 2008 amid the worst financial crisis in generations.

The payments mean Treasury has been repaid $181 billion of the money it disbursed. Both repayments were announced by the companies earlier this week.

Treasury expects to turn a profit on its investments in banks. But taxpayers are likely to lose more than $100 billion on the automakers and insurance giant American International Group Inc.

Weekly Currency Roundup

March 28 - April 1st, 2010

International Markets

The end of this week was marked by the US dollar hitting a 3 month high against the yen, driven by speculation Japanese investors are looking higher returns abroad at the start of Japan's new fiscal year. Traders brushed off a Bank of Japan survey showing a widely expected improvement in business sentiment during the March quarter. Japan's financial year began on Thursday, and market participants speculated that domestic investors would plough fresh funds into overseas assets which offer higher returns than those in Japan, where rates are seen staying low indefinitely. Still, some in the market argue that yen selling in past weeks has left the market increasingly short of the Japanese currency, leaving it vulnerable to a correction.

The dollar also recovered from a one-week low versus the euro as investors awaited US jobs data on Friday which is expected to show a rise in non-farm payrolls, despite weaker than forecast private sector jobs numbers on Wednesday. European trade was quiet ahead of the Easter holiday weekend. The crucial US employment figures will be released when most markets are closed on Friday. Markets will also be shut on Monday. The euro was reversing some of the previous day's gains resulting from month-end fixings. It also shrugged off data showing euro zone manufacturing activity growing at its fastest pace in more than three years.

Local Money Market

The call money rate traded in the range of 3-3.25 this week.

Local Market FX

The USD was stable against the BDT this week. The market was active and there was ample liquidity.
