

WE SHALL OVERCOME

EVERYONE has to face hurdles in life. People in these photos too have challenges and they have decided never to give in. They can play, work and learn like any other. Every year a number of physically and mentally challenged children with great enthusiasm take part in a sports competition arranged by National Association of Sports for the Persons with Disability. It is not about winning or losing anything, rather showing the spirit and the confidence. Their smiling faces at the end of every event are the reminders of one of the greatest song of all time, "We shall overcome someday".

Photo: ANISUR RAHMAN

