Course for Academic Leaders at SPEED

Star Campus Desk

A group of enthusiastic educators determined to hone their management skills for running educational institutes at a global standard have started an Education Management Certificate course from April 19, 2010 at SPEED, a training center based in Mohakhali. The launching ceremony of this course was inaugurated by Mrs. Yasmeen Murshed, founder of Scholastica School. Syeda Madiha Murshed, Deputy Managing Director of Ascent Group and Executive Director of SPEED, attended the ceremony as a special guest.

SPEED is a sister concern of the English medium school, Scholastica. Since its inception in November 2005, SPEED has been providing high-quality training programmes for hundreds of teachers and corporate professionals. The course will enhance understanding of academic principles to design quality education programmes and develop administrative skills to increase efficiency in various work processes in all areas of a school's operation. Finally, it will build leadership skills amongst participants to manage faculty, management, parents and students effectively.

SPEED is committed to providing training solutions that meet the developmental needs of business and educational organisations by creating programmes that increase productivity and long term success.
