More trouble

There seems to be no end to controversies surrounding Pakistani cricketer Shoaib Malik. Now the Hyderabad Cricket Association (HCA) has banned his entry into Gymkhana Cricket Grounds in Hyderabad.

HCA joint secretary DS Chalapathi confirmed to IANS on Friday that Malik, who has been banned by Pakistan Cricket Board for one year, has been barred from entering Gymkhana.

"Yes. We have asked Gymkahana staffnot to allowhim to practice," Chalapathi said.

Malik was banned and fined by the Pakistani board for breaching the players' code of conduct and inciting player unrest during the disastrous Australia tour this year.

needed off the final over. Ian Butler, preferred over Jacob Oram, stepped up to bowl. The first four deliveries reflected the game's fluctuating pattern: dot, four, dot, four, as Butt swung-and-missed twice and connected twice. To continue the pattern, Butt missed the next delivery, a yorker just beyond legstump, but the batsmen sneaked a bye, though Gareth Hopkins hit direct at the keeper's end.

Two required off the final ball, with Abdur Rehman on strike. After lengthy discussions about the field, Butler charged in and served up a length ball on the pads - ripe for the hitting, but it was only struck as far as Martin Guptill. That confirmed Pakistan's defeat and ruined Rehman's first international match in three years, one in which he had been terrific with the ball earlier on.

Friday.

The opener's entrancing innings at the Kensington Oval was the centrepiece of Sri Lanka's total of 195 for three -- the best by any side this tournament.

But the West Indies helped last year's losing finalists greatly by missing six chances during a wretched fielding display as they lost for the first time in the competition.

Jayawardene, given two reprieves, faced 56 balls with four sixes and nine fours as he followed up his 81 against New Zealand and 100 against Zimbabwe with another dominant innings. The former captain's average for the tournament now stands at a scarcely credible 139.5 and there is no doubt he is enjoying his new lease of life as an opener in this format. Earlier Friday, a statement on Sri Lanka Cricket's own website berated the national's team performances in the Caribbean so far, saying most of the senior players looked "rusty and tired". The statement added: "Jayawardene seems to be the sole breadwinner in the batting department. He needs support." Well in this match he got it from Sri Lanka captain Kumar Sangakkara (68) in a partnership of 166, the second best in all took none for 26 from four overs. Twenty20 internationals.

Mahela Jayawardene's Only Loots Bosman and Graeme Smith, with 170 for South Africa against England at Centurion last year, have enjoyed a bigger stand at this level.

"Mahela was superb again, his form has been crucial to us getting this far in the tournament," said Sangakkara, dropped on nought and 27.

West Indies captain Chris Gayle, who dropped Sangakkara at slip when his opposite number had yet to score, was at a loss to explain his team's inept fielding. "We had our chances, but we put them ing was so bad, we have worked extremely hard on it." He added: "We are in a must-win down," he said. "I can't say why our fieldsituation now, I hope we can lift our game." West Indies lost two wickets early on as Shivnarine Chanderpaul and the hardhitting Gayle both fell cheaply, with Sri Lanka holding their catches as the hosts slumped to 23 for two. The innings never really recovered from that double blow and West Indies limped to 138 for eight off 20 overs. Ramnaresh Sarwan (28) and Dwayne Bravo (23) were the only batsmen to pass 16 in an innings where extras was the third-best contributor with 17. Spinner Ajantha Mendis took three wickets for 24 runs from his maximum four overs and paceman Lasith Malinga three for Senior spinner Muttiah Muralitharan, back in the side following a groin injury,

SPORI

Sangakkara, also dropped on 27, eventually holed out having faced 49 balls with three sixes and five fours.

Jayawardene showed his class throughout but he too was given a couple of lives, both in the same over from leftarm spinner Sulieman Benn.

On 65, he was well beaten by a Benn delivery, only for occasional wicketkeeper Andre Fletcher to miss the stumping. Jayawardene had added only one to his score when he skied behind but, embarrassingly, neither Fletcher nor short third man Wavell Hinds went for the catch and the ball fell safe. No one has yet made two Twenty20 international hundreds but the unselfish Jayawardene refused to hog the strike in the last over as Tillakaratne Dilshan ended the innings with a four. Both teams are back here on Sunday, with the West Indies playing India and Sri Lanka facing Australia, who thrashed the Indians by 49 runs earlier Thursday.

Nazimuddin unnecessarily stepped down to charge Imran but ended up being stumped for an 86-ball 89 that featured 13 sweetly-timed boundaries while Rokibul, who scored 46 off 60 balls that contained two boundaries, tried the sweep but was trapped in front.

Bangladesh A fell in big trouble when in-form Faisal Hossain offered a simple catch to Nash at mid-off off Pascal as the home side were reduced to 177 for five.

FROM PAGE 17 Trevor Bayliss, the Sri Lanka coach, said of Jayawardene: "He is batting as well as everyone in the world knows he can bat like.

"Opening in the 20 overs game is really one of the only spots you can make a big score from," the Australian added.

"We have got a guy [Jaywardene] here who is used to making big scores, knows how to go about making big scores, not only in the shorter version but in Test matches as well.

"He is a classical style batsman who doesn't muscle the ball away but still seems to time it pretty well away to the fence or over the fence." Only four batsmen have scored Twenty20 international hundreds -- West Indies' Chris Gayle and New Zealand's Brendon McCullum being joined in an exclusive club at this tournament by India's Suresh Raina and Jayawardene.
