

ailainframe

DHAKA TUESDAY MAY 25, 2010

ONE YEAR OF AGONY

Just on this day last year, Cyclone Aila hit the countries southwestern coast killing about 200. However, over one lakh homeless people still live on the damaged embankments, many of which still could not be repaired. Through the breaches saline tidal water still enters the localities and floods their houses. They are in dire need of immediate rebuilding of the embankments, supply of freshwater and employment.

