A new dimension in TV

LCD Series

The clarity of crystal

LCD Series

With 3D LED TV, Samsung introduces a completely new dimension in TV. At first, the viewer admires the small physical dimension of the TV—its incredible slimness and weightlessness. But it's when the TV is switched on that its true dimensions are revealed. From this sleek, slim profile emerges a picture of vast dimensions—images that both project out of the screen and extend behind it. It is this paradox which sits at the heart of its appeal.

Inspired and inspirational, the Liquid Crystal design is a reflection of all that is beautiful, natural, and harmonious. The subtle interplay of colour and light accentuates the translucent, ethereal effect of the environmentally-friendly injection moulded exterior and proves that true beauty lies in the balance between what the eyes can see and the senses can feel.
