Fleeting glimpses of life

Annual photography exhibition by BUET-Photographic Society

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

BUET Photographic Society has been holding annual exhibitions over the last few years. The organisation has arranged its 8th annual exhibition at the Drik Gallery, Dhanmondi, in Dhaka. The three-day exhibition, beginning on June 22, features 50 photographs by former and current students -- who are actively involved with the Photographic Society -- of BUET.

Usually the exhibition is held at BUET premises but to draw more photo enthusiasts, this year they took the exhibition outside the campus.

Through their works, the amateur photographers have tried to frame some glimpses of life, from various aspects. Joyous moments from different festivals, hardship faced by working-class people and mass prayer -- all appear as subjects.

Fahim, Imran, Bandhon, Smita and Fahim ul Alam's photos are on the above-mentioned themes.

The young photographers roamed the country in search of these priceless moments. Some went abroad to shoot. Fahim Mahmud's panoramic work on the Rajasthan desert is among these photographs.

Architecture is a subject seemingly popular with the BUET photographers. This year's exhibition does not exclude architecture either. Sonto and Biswajit, among others, worked on the theme.

The beauty of nature, both in rural and urban areas, during different times of the day, has also been highlighted at the exhibition. Kawser, Zahid, Farhan, Ananya and Nowreen have worked on this theme. They tried to bring to light the often-overlooked opulence of nature in our country.

BUET Photographic

Society was formed in 1997 to promote extra-curricular activities among the students.

The aim of the organisation is to create a platform for students keen on photography and to inspire others to take it as a hobby or passion. The photographic society is an active group on campus and has been successful in producing quality images and photographs.

The exhibition ends today.

Finding a calling in films

"I want to reach the heart of the audience" -- Emon

ZAHID AKBAR

Model-turned-actor Emon has appeared in seven films to date, some of them box-office hits. Several more of his films are in the pipeline. In an interview with The Daily Star (TDS), Emon talked about his budding film career. Excerpts from the interview:

TDS: Which films are you currently working on?

Emon: At present I'm busy with the shooting of "Mayer Jonno Pagol" and "Amar Prithibi Tumi."

TDS: Which of your films have been released so far?

Emon: So far seven films have been released: "Daruchini Dwip," "Ek Buk Bhalobasha," "Shobaito Bhalobasha Chaye," "Rastar Chheley," "Pa(n)ch Takar Prem," "Piriter Agun Joley Digan" and "Gahiney Shabbo."

TDS: You emerged in the entertainment industry with an ad for Banglalink. How did you venture onto the silver screen?

Emon: I didn't have any plan to act in films. Ibne Hasan Khan of Channel i first offered me a role in "Daruchini Dwip". The film was nominated for a Meril-Prothom Alo Award. This made me think seriously about the medium.

TDS: Which film personalities inspire you the most?

Emon: Veteran actor Razzaque and the late Salman Shah are my all-time favourites. Salman Shah brought a new trend in the film scene. He stood apart from the others. Among Bollywood actors I admire Shah Rukh Khan and Aamir Khan.

TDS: How far do you want to go in the film world?

Emon: Frankly I never target any position. Rather I want to create a space for myself so that everyone can appreciate my work. I want to reach the heart of the audience and receive the love of my fans.

TDS: Many, who switch from the small screen to films, usually find it hard to create a space for themselves. Do you agree?

Emon: If the filmmakers fail to utilise the actors' talents, then there's nothing to add. Since there is no watertight compartment, usually actors from theatre or small screen should do better.

Cultural programme for child workers

With the slogan "Jhukipurno Shishu Srom Kortey Hobey Niroshon," a cultural programme attended and participated by child workers, was recently held at Munshikhola, Dhaka, says a press release.

The programme featured music, dance and staging of two plays -- "Bhul Thekey Shikkha" and "Neshar Pha(n)d." Artistes of Theatre for Development staged the plays, while children performed songs and dances.

The project 'Protection of Rights of Distressed Children,' under the organisation Social and Economic Enhancement Programme (SEEP), arranged the event.

Apart from the cultural programme, Child Development Club organised a football and a cricket match. Coordinator of SEEP Mohsin Uddin Sumon and local administrative officials gave away prizes to the winning teams.
