Oil higher

Oil was up in Asian trade on Monday as traders bought up cheap crude following a slump in prices last week, analysts said.

New York's main contract, light sweet crude for delivery in August, gained 53 cents to 72.67 dollars a barrel in the afternoon. Brent North Sea crude for August delivery advanced 54 cents to 72.19 dollars.

Traders were investing in cheap crude following a plunge in prices last week, said Serene Lim, a Singapore-based oil and gas analyst with Australia's ANZ bank.

"I think because oil prices have already been falling so much, there would be a rebound as longer-term investors buy into the market," she said.
