Chemonics International Inc., a leading international consulting firm based in Washington, D.C., seeks technical specialists for long- and short-term assignments for an anticipated USAID-funded forestry and climate change project in Bangladesh. Technical specialists will be responsible for developing and implementing technical activities in one or more of the following areas: global climate change adaptation, livelihoods development, natural resources management, community forestry, environmental policy and governance, institutional reform, conservation financing, conservation enterprise value chain development, carbon markets and trading, and non-forestry forest products.

Qualifications:

- Advanced degree in a relevant field
- Minimum 5 years of experience in forestry, natural resources management, environmental governance, climate change adaptation and mitigation, or livelihoods-conservation enterprise
- Experience working collaboratively with a broad range of government officials, international donors, local communities and private industries
- Experience working on donor-funded projects
- Experience working on USAID-funded environment programs preferred
- Proficiency in English required, with excellent written and oral communications skills
- Ability to work and travel in remote areas of the country to oversee program implementation and provide technical expertise

Chemonics International (www.chemonics.com) was founded in 1975 and is one of the largest U.S. consulting firms providing expertise in developing and emerging-market countries for initiatives financed by the U.S. Agency for International Development. Applicants are requested to send expressions of interest and CVs to bdclimatechange@gmail.com by August 24, 2010. Only the strongest candidates will be contacted. No telephone inquiries, please.
