Oil down

AFP, Singapore

Oil prices were down in Asian trade on Tuesday ahead of a US monetary policy meeting as lingering fears over the strength of the US economy weighed on crude markets, analysts said.

New York's market contract, light sweet crude for delivery in October, was down 67 cents to 74.19 dollars a barrel, and Brent North Sea crude for November eased nine cents to 79.23 dollars.

Crude markets were awaiting the outcome of a Federal Reserve meeting Tuesday on monetary policy in the world's largest economy, analysts said.
