renowned educationist, philologist and linguist Dr. Muhammad Shahidullah. Baseer is one of the senior-most painters of Bangladesh. The exhibition at Kaya will highlight the series "The Wings" which includes 37 works. Baseer started the series in July 1998. It's considered one of his most memorable series of paintings. Works from the series feature parts of butterfly wings of different shapes and patterns, from many aspects. The most significant trait of the series is that all of the works have a profound connection but each denotes an individual splendour. Adviser to the Prime Minister, HT Imam, will inaugurate the exhibition. Noted poet and architect Rabiul Hussain will also be present to facilitate the inaugural session.

J-Lo, Steven Tyler new "American Idol" judges

Jennifer Lopez and Steven Tyler will join Randy Jackson as "American Idol" judges next season, after months of turnover and speculation about the future of the popular show. With pomp rivalling that of a U.S. Supreme Court appointment, Fox finally assembled the new pieces of the "Idol" panel that will be returned to its original three-member format for season 10. Actress-singer-dancer Lopez and Aerosmith frontman Tyler will have the job of trying to match the offbeat chemistry of former judges Simon Cowell and Paula Abdul. "This is 'American Idol!'" host Ryan Seacrest said after the new judges joined him on stage at the Forum arena, where the final national audition for next season's singing contest was held Wednesday. The announcement was made before a crowd of several thousand who had gathered to try out, some cheering loudly for the cameras and all hoping to make it to the next round, when they'll be judged by the revamped panel. The mini-show was streamed live online by Fox. Tyler said he wanted to join the show because "it's being a part of something much bigger than yourself. ...I want to bring some rock to this roller coaster and show if you've got the heart, the talent, and feeling to do this you could be the next American Idol." "I'm so excited," said Lopez, who scored a reported $12 million to join the show. "I'm looking for the next Michael Jackson." Cowell announced last January that he planned to leave to launch a new talent show for Fox in 2011, with newcomers Ellen DeGeneres and Kara DioGuardi exiting this summer. Abdul left in 2009 over a contract dispute. Jackson will be the only original judge when "American Idol" returns in January. Though gone, Cowell wasn't forgotten at the news conference that followed the judges' unveiling. "Simon is irreplaceable, no question about that," said executive producer Nigel Lythgoe. But he and fellow producer Ken Warwick said that the new judges will bring their own personalities to the mix. Lopez made it clear she has no plans to become the new Simon. "I believe in tough love, but I'm an artiste myself," she said. "I could never be cruel to another artiste." Of course, Lopez and Tyler loom as the biggest changes, and the pressure is on them to help "American Idol" reinvent itself for the new season, when it will try to stem a ratings slide and bring in younger viewers. The show's audience has been gradually aging, and advertisers prefer to pitch to young adults.

Eid-special "Ityadi" to be re-aired today

A CORRESPONDENT

Mega-popular variety show "Ityadi" will be re-telecast today at 5:20 pm on BTv. Mingling folk and pahari (hilly) tunes, an innovative dance performance by renowned dancers Shibli Mohammad and Shamim Ara Nipa, their troupe and a number of pahari dancers added a new dimension to the show. Featuring nine popular singers, a musical sketch was another highlight. The sketch depicts Eid shopping, price hike and conjugal conflict. Written and composed by Mohammad Rafiqzaman and Ali Akbar Rupu, a patriotic song was rendered by the diva Sabina Yasmin on the show. Apart from these, at least 50 expatriates living in Bangladesh have taken part in a skit on local buses plying Dhaka streets. Produced by Fagun Audio Vision, the show is the brainchild of Hanif Sanket, who is the writer, director and host of the show as well.

Renowned Sri Lankan artistes to perform at Shilpakala Academy today

The Sri Lanka Women's Association (Seva Vanitha), Dhaka, of the High Commission of Sri Lanka has organised a musical programme, titled "Gee Saraniya". The programme will feature renowned Sri Lankan singer Visharada Nanda Malini, accompanied by music director Rohana Weerasinghe and a five-member orchestra. The event will be held today at the Shilpakala Academy, according to a press release. Visharada Nanda Malini is one of Sri Lanka's foremost singers. Her unique singing style is hugely popular and she has won 19 Awards -- eleven Sarasaviya and eight Presidential Awards for Best Singer and the Most Popular Singer respectively. The artiste is considered a national icon as her music captured audiences through radio, television and live performances in Sri Lanka and abroad. Music director Rohana Weerasinghe is also an accomplished composer and a singer and has been awarded five Sarasaviya and two Presidents Awards along with several others for his contribution to the Sri Lankan film industry.

New "Harry Potter" trailer promises dark times ahead

A scene from "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part I." "These are dark times, there is no denying." So begins the newly released promotional trailer for the upcoming 3D sequel "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part I." The British boy wizard once again will work his magic on movie audiences when "Deathly Hallows" is released in November. A look at the trailer, released Wednesday by Warner Bros. Pictures, shows as much action as ever when multiple Harrys -- at least six of them -- are conjured up to help him battle his nemesis Lord Voldemort. Harry's friends, Hermione Granger and Ron Weasley, also join the fight against the dark lord who now has control over the Ministry of Magic. But as Voldemort's powers grow, the bond among the three Hogwarts schoolmates becomes frayed, and Ron and Harry come to blows.

Will they remain friends and defeat Voldemort? The answer remains in doubt because, as the trailer tells audiences, "only one can live" when it comes to the battle between evil Voldemort and good Harry. The Potter movies, based on the best-selling novels by author J.K. Rowling, have raked in billions of dollars at the worldwide box office. Rowling's final book, "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows," was split into two films, with the second installment hitting theatres next July. Source: Internet
