Notice

Dear Contributors,
We would like to request you to send us your Newsroom materials, press release, articles and photo features by Monday of each week. The Newsroom write-up should be limited to 350-400 words and a picture in JPEG format has to be attached as well. As for other articles the word limit is 1000. The photo features should be of good resolution and all the photographs should have a definite theme to which we can relate. Moreover, we would also request you to send us your full name with your article, your address, your contact number and also the institution that you are representing.

Star Campus Team

UNYSAB in Asian University

THE most recent chapter under the United Nations Youth & Students' Association of Bangladesh (UNYSAB) Chittagong Wing is UNYSAB Asian University for Women (AUW) Chapter. The enthusiastic participation and vigorous support from the student of AUW and Resident Faculty, Dr. Qamar Banu made the inaugural meeting of UNYSAB AUW Chapter successful. On September 22, the students of Asian university for women (AUW) had a one and half hours meeting and in where the UNYSAB AUW Chapter was officially launched. The meeting took place at AUW coffee shop with UNYSAB representatives. In the meeting 29 students of AUW from different countries like Nepal, India, and Bangladesh were present. In the discussion session and question/answer session of the meeting the participants discussed about the history, activate and aim of UNYSAB. Alongside, the participants also talked about their response to the growing concern over the issue of Human Rights in the MDGs (Millennium Development Goals). The members of UNYSAB AUW Chapter are hopeful and believe that they can work for the betterment of the society more effectively through this platform.

Best 50 TTH 2010 candidates are in grooming

LIKE last year the 2nd season of Textile Talent Hunt 2010 was organised by the research development and promotion based organisation Amin & Jahan Corporation. This year the competition was titled Intertek-BTT Textile Talent Hunt. Along with Bangladesh Textile Today, Intertek a multinational involved in service industry was the title sponsor of the event. TTH 2010 is being organised in association with Bangladesh Textile Mills Association (BTMA), Textile Institute Manchester, UK and College of Textile Technology. University of South Asia and World University of Bangladesh are university partners of this year's talent hunting competition.

The opening ceremony of the Textile Talent Hunt 2010 grooming sessions was chaired by Professor Dr. Engr. Ayub Nabi Khan. He was present as the judges' panel chairman of the competition. The moment was graced by the presence of Mr. John T Smith, Chairman, International Event of Textile Institute and Dr. Karthikayan, AGM, Intertek Consumer Goods. Later Dr. Saifur Rahman, Member Secretary, TTH Judge's Panel presented on research methodology. After lunch the students participated in a brain storming session conducted by Mr. Maherul Islam, Fabric Technologist, Kenpark Bangladesh Ltd.