

Showcasing Young Talents

Salman Rob

ON November 29, the finals of the talent hunt at the State University of Bangladesh were held. The hunt consisted of only BBA students. A prize giving ceremony was also conducted on the same day for an inter- batch debate tournament, which was also for the students of the BBA department. The programme had begun with the speeches of guests, such as, Proffessor A Y M Ekramud Daula, member secretary, Proffessor S.M.A Faiz, member of the governor board, Professor Iftekhar Ghoni Chowdhury, Vice Chancellor, followed by Mukit, actor and board director of Unitrend and Sunbeam a singer and performer.

Ekramud Daula began his speech by applauding the participants and wishing them the best of luck for the last round of the competition. The talent he had expected to see was definitely shown by the students with a great show. S.M.A Faiz said, "If I can recall in my days, we didn't have much talent, but you students have the chance to express your talents," and wished all of them good luck. Iftekhar Ghoni Chowdhury mentioned how glad he was about the whole event being held and thought the students were moving on in a very positive direction. He also distributed crests to all the guests who were present. Showbiz idols- Mukit and Sunbim both wished all the performers good luck and told them to prove not to be good students only, but great performers as well.

The show was organised by a few students of the BBA department along with the help of Professor Farzana Hoque Rozen, Department of Business Studies. It also had sponsors from 'Signal' and computerjogot.com, who helped them webcast the whole show on both www.sub.edu.bd and computerjogot.com

Jaami Abdullah Farooq, a student of Human Resource at the State University of Bangladesh was one of the main organisers of the whole event. He had come up with the idea of the talent search after being inspired by television shows like America's Got Talent, Britain's Got Talent and many more. According to Jaami the main objective was to start having more extracurricular activities at the university and letting the students have opportunities to express their ideas. According to Jaami, around sixty students had registered for the competition on November 6, whereupon ten were selected to perform in the finals. The auditions were held at the university by four professors from the BBA department as judges. "This is my last semester," says Jaami.