NARSINGDI CARNAGE

Breaching of traffic rules resulted in a head-on collision between two trains in Narsingdi, claiming at least 10 lives and injuring over 100 others, on December 8. These photos show some moments of a 29-hour rescue operation. Two photos in the bottom were taken at night and the five on top the day after the accident. In the three photos in the middle, the sister of a victim breaks down in tears, a rescue team recovers a body, and a physician attends an injured in hospital.
