

REUNITED BY TWITTER

Thanks to the microblogging site, a homeless man in New York finds her daughter after a decade

PAGE 7

ON OSCAR EVE

A look at the contenders for best film at the 83rd Academy Awards

PAGE 11

FACING SPIN TRIAL

Spinners will call the shots as England and India square off in Bangalore

PAGE 19

Only people's graft to be under watch

Changes to anti-corruption law kept under wraps; from president to UP members to be beyond ACC's jurisdiction

EMRAN HOSSAIN and
M ABUL KALAM AZAD

Maintaining utmost secrecy the government is set to amend the Anti-Corruption Commission laws clipping the anti-graft watchdog's authority to file cases against any public servant beginning from the head of state to the members of union parishads.

Besides, the cabinet chaired by Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina recently finalised nine more amendments keeping the ACC completely ignorant about it. Since then repeated attempts by the commission to get a written copy of the finalised amendments turned futile.

According to information gleaned by The Daily Star, the most damaging amendment would be the provision to require prior permission before filing cases against officers and employees of the republic.

SEE PAGE 13 COL 1

Chinese co taking 804 Bangladeshis to Greece

300 take refuge in Tunisia

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

A Chinese company yesterday started moving 804 Bangladeshi nationals from troubled Libya to Greece by a ship while 300 have already taken refuge in Tunisia.

The 804 are scheduled to reach Greece by tomorrow [Sunday], said

Foreign Secretary Mijarul Quayes at a press briefing.

SEE PAGE 13 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

TERROR IN TRIPOLI Gaddafi set to arm civilians

UN Security Council mulls sanctions resolution

AFP, Tripoli

His home return plan shattered

Md FAZLUR RAHMAN

Cement plant engineer Golam Rabbani wanted to return home this February to finally settle down in the country and look after his three children. But his life now seems to be in grave danger as he has

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Terrified residents braced for bloody battles in Tripoli yesterday as Muammar Gaddafi offered to arm civilians to defeat a popular revolt that poses the worst threat to his four-decade rule.

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council called a special session to consider a sanctions resolution against the

Libyan leader on top of those from President Barack

Obama and the European Union in a clear attempt to

weaken his teetering regime.

The escalating revolt to overthrow Gaddafi, which a

Libyan diplomat to the United Nations said has killed

SEE PAGE 6 COL 1

SEE PAGE 6 COL 4

PHOTO ON PAGE 9

SEE PAGE 6 COL 6