Match-fixing probe ordered in Lanka

Cricket

AFP, Colombo

Sri Lanka's sports minister on Monday ordered a police inquiry into match-fixing allegations levelled by former international captain Hashan Tillakaratne.

Tillakaratne, who played 83 Tests and 200 one-dayers during a 15-year career, said last week that Sri Lankan players had been involved in match-fixing since 1992 adding that he was prepared to name some of them.

"I have asked the inspector general of police to investigate these claims and give a report to me," Mahindananda Aluthgamage told reporters after meeting cricket administrators Monday.

Tillakaratne, who skippered Sri Lanka between April 2003 and March 2004, stopped short of suggesting the 2011 World Cup final was rigged, although he expressed reservations about the team selection.

Sri Lanka lost to India in last month's final.

"Match-fixing is something which has been in this country over a period of time. This has spread like a cancer today," Tillakaratne was quoted as saying by Sri Lanka's Daily Mirror newspaper on Friday.

"There were threats of this issue being exposed at various times. But it was pushed down by giving money to various people."

Moga started the goal spree in the sixteenth minute with a clever header from inside the 6-yard box leaving the fully stretched hands of Brothers keeper Uttam Barua no chance. Goals came almost every time Moga found some space as he could hardly put a step wrong. However, his strike partner Boris Kochikin wasn't in great form, as he wasted three wonderful opportunities and turned his Bangladesh League debut into a forgettable one.

However, Moga found the back of the net in the 42nd minute again, this time taking the ball from the midfield on his own before chipping over the advancing keeper.

Brothers, who were mostly invisible throughout the first half, showed some enterprise in the beginning was off to Real for 67 milof the second and courtesy lion euros.

Bangladesh cricket captain Shakib Al Hasan returned home from India on Sunday morning to be with his ailing mother.

The all-rounder, currently playing for the Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) in the Indian Premier League, was sidelined for the franchise's last two games after playing four matches and said that he was not sure about when he will join KKR again.

"My mother's condition is a little better but everything will be clear after getting the diagnosis reports tomorrow. Right at the moment I'm thinking about my mother's illness and definitely prefer to be beside her," said Shakib.

explosive 56 from opener Sunny Sohal before finishing at 146-8 chasing a 166run target. He hit four sixes and six fours in his 30-ball knock. Raina added 60 for the second
