

Asian stocks slump

Asian shares tumbled on Thursday, following heavy losses on Wall Street after another batch of weak data stoked concerns over the state of the global economy.

Tokyo was also weighed by political uncertainty as Prime Minister Naoto Kan faced a vote of no-confidence, adding to investors' nervousness about the already struggling economy.

Tokyo slumped 1.69 percent, or 164.04 points, to 9,555.04, Seoul sank 1.27 percent, or 27.14 points, to 2,114.20 and Sydney dived 2.27 percent, or 106.9 points, to 4,600.4.

Hong Kong lost 1.58 percent, or 372.59 points, to 23,253.84 and Shanghai shed 1.40 percent, or 38.39 points, to 2,705.18.

Regional stocks were given a bad start when the Dow suffered its worst performance in several months, diving 2.22 percent on Wednesday while the broader S&P 500 fell 2.28 percent and the tech-rich Nasdaq lost 2.33 percent.

The Institute of Supply Management's manufacturing survey plummeted nearly seven percentage points from April to a 19-month low.

Adding to dealers' woes, US auto sales in May fell 8.3 percent from April and 3.7 percent year-on-year, according to the research firm Autodata. The market was not helped when, late in the session, Moody's rating agency again downgraded Greek debt and gave it a negative outlook, raising the already high stakes in rescue negotiations for the imperiled eurozone member.

On Wednesday manufacturing data across Asia pointed to an easing in the region's leading emerging economies, with the purchasing managers' indexes in China, India, South Korea and Taiwan showing slower growth.

The dollar rose to 80.97 yen in early Tokyo trade, from 80.91 yen late New York Wednesday while the euro edged up to $1.4375 from 1.4331.

The single European unit was at 116.44 yen, up from 115.99.

Oil was down. New York's main contract, light sweet crude for July delivery, lost 57 cents to $99.72 a barrel and Brent North Sea crude for July delivery dipped 31 cents to $114.22 in the afternoon.

Gold closed at $1,540.00-$1,541.00 per ounce, up from its Wednesday close of $1,530.50-$1,531.50.

In other markets: Singapore closed down 12.27 points, or 0.39 percent, at 3,160.6.

Bangkok edged down 0.55 percent or 5.82 points to 1,059.81. Mumbai fell 0.62 percent, or 114.63 points, to 18,494.18.

Kabir Steel Re-Rolling Mills (KSRM) has recently signed a deal with Sena Hotel Developments Ltd for the latter's new project, Radisson Bay View Hotel Chittagong, at a programme in Radisson Water Garden Hotel in Dhaka. KSRM will supply 2,000 tonnes of steel for the project.

MJC Amarasuriya, chairman of Commercial Bank of Ceylon, inaugurates the relocated SME centre of the bank on CDA Avenue in Chittagong recently. S Prabagar, country manager, was also present.
