The last bus ride

DWAIPAYAN BARUA, from Ctg

Thrilled to get back to school after a long vacation, they were making plans for new uniforms, clothes and books as they boarded the bus. Hardly 10 minutes later, everything fell apart.

Their group of four -- Daw Sing Nue, her sister Key Ki, classmates Ma Mya Ching and Hla Sa Thui -- had started early in the morning so they were not late for the first class of the new year. Only seven kilometres into their commute through a veil of thick fog, it all became irrelevant as their bus skidded off the road and tumbled down a steep slope to 300 feet below.

Bandarban bus plunge kills 17

DWAIPAYAN BARUA, Ctg

A horrifying bus crash near Thanchi of Bandarban yesterday morning left at least 17 dead and 25 more injured.

While going downhill in the foggy morning, the bus fell into a 300-foot-deep muddy and rocky gorge.

Thirteen passengers died on the spot while four others succumbed to their injuries at Bandarban Sadar Hospital, said Lt Col Nurul Momen Chowdhury, commanding officer of 10 Battalion of Border Guard Bangladesh. Ten critically injured victims were moved to Chittagong Medical College Hospital later on for better treatment.

The passengers who died on the spot were identified as U Hla Ching Marma, 60, Awami League president of Thanchi union unit and a resident of Thanchi Headmanpara, his daughter Key Ki Nue, 11, a class-VII student of Ramu Girls High School in Cox's Bazar, Caritas

CRP restructures Jui's hand chopped off by husband, prepares her to sit in HSC exams in April

KAILASH SARKAR

Yes, she is going to sit for the HSC examinations starting from April 1, but this is not the only news. Hawa Akhter Jui will be answering the tests using her right hand.

The 21-year-old did not lose faith in herself after her husband cut off the fingers of her right hand as a "punishment" as she wanted to get higher education. She began practising writing with her left hand.
