PM spends quality time with underprivileged children

UNB, Dhaka

Hundreds of underprivileged children and mothers spent some hours full of enjoyment and merrymaking with Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina at her official residence, Gono Bhaban, yesterday.

The PM found time in her busy schedule to invite these children of a UK-based non-government organisation, Shishu Palli Plus, to spend some quality time with them.

The children presented songs and dance routines before Hasina, who, with Leela, daughter of her nephew Redwan Mujib Siddique Bobby, greeting and encouraged them.

Shishu Palli Plus, a non-religious and non-political organisation located in Sreepur of Gazipur district, provides destitute mothers and their children health knowledge, education and skills so that they can function independently in society.

It also provides them with a secure environment, food, clothing, education and vocational training. Currently over 150 mothers and 400 children are supported by the organisation.

Greeting the children on their arrival, the PM said the main goal of her politics is to ensure the basic needs for the country's children, including food, clothing, education and shelter.

The government is working tirelessly to turn Bangladesh into a middle-income country by 2021, free from hunger and poverty, she said.

Hasina said it is the government's duty to ensure that children, irrespective of being orphans or living on the streets, get proper education and stay away from hazardous jobs.

She called upon all non-government organisations to supplement government efforts to ensure food, education and shelter for underprivileged children.

She said the government took numerous steps to provide some facilities to the country's children, which includes providing free school textbooks up to higher secondary level.

"We want to groom our children properly and provide all the facilities so that they can be the future leaders of the country," she said.

Hasina said it is not acceptable that children will pass their days in miserable conditions. "The government is here to take all the responsibilities," she said.

On a request to provide citizenship to the Shishu Palli Plus founder, Patricia Kerr, Hasina said she personally had no objection in giving citizenship to a person who devoted more than 30 years in serving destitute mothers and their children.

However, "We have to follow the rules of the country before giving citizenship to her," she said.

Social Welfare Minister Enamul Hoque Mostofa Shaheed, State Minister for Women and Children Affairs Dr Shirin Sharmin Chaudhury, British High Commissioner in Dhaka Robert Gibson and Shishu Palli Plus founder Patricia Kerr also spoke on the occasion.

Law to ensure safe water stressed

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Experts at a roundtable yesterday stressed the need for formulating safe drinking water and sanitation law and mitigating arsenic problem to ensure safe water and its adequacy in the country.

They also emphasised saving the rivers across the country especially around the capital to ensure safe drinking water.

Arsenic contamination has been creating a huge problem to get safe drinking water for rural people, the speakers told the roundtable on "Pure drinking water for all," organised by Prothom Alo at its office.

Though there is the national policy for arsenic mitigation, the government does not have proper attention to implement it," said M Firoz Ahmed, vice president of Bangladesh Paribesh Andolon (Bapa).

The donors did not give money for any projects to mitigate arsenic problem following formulation of the arsenic policy, he said.

It is very important to go for providing alternative source of water to save the people from arsenic contamination but only one per cent of the affected people have got such alternative facilities, Firoz said.

Khairul Islam, country representative of Water Aid Bangladesh, said funding to mitigate arsenic problem has not been given priorities to the vulnerable areas.

Stressing the need for a coordinated effort to solve arsenic problem, Prof Mujibur Rahman of Buet said there is huge discrimination among the people of the country in getting water which is needed to be reduced.

State Minister for LGRD and Cooperatives Jahangir Kabir Nanok said the government depends on ground water to supply drinking water in the capital but it is not a permanent solution rather it is putting the Dhaka city at risk.

He said the government is going for using surface water instead of ground water following a direction from Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina.

The minister put emphasis on creating awareness to reduce wastage of water. Nani Gopal Mandal, lawmaker of Dakop, Khulna demanded digging up ponds to make water reservoirs to ensure drinking water for the people of southwestern region.

MA Matin, director general of RDA, Bogra, said it is necessary to make the rivers around the Dhaka city free from pollution to ensure drinking water.

Dibalok Singh of Dustha Shashtha Kendra demanded adequate drinking water for slum dwellers at a cheaper rate.

Abul Qayum, joint editor of Prothom Alo, moderated the programme.

Zuena Aziz, additional secretary of the local government division, also spoke at the roundtable.
