

HOME OF HOPE

A Shelter for Helpless Ill Children (ASHIC) provides counselling, accommodation and temporary finances for treatment of children fighting cancer. These photos taken at the shelter, set up in House-54 on Dhanmondi Central Road, show a birthday celebrations of one of the sick children; volunteers playing with the kids, and the fun they get to have there. Salma Chowdhury, who lost her son to cancer, established the shelter. She claimed that she required more help to reach out to all the children suffering from cancer.
