Retail FDI will benefit Indian economy, says Chidambaram

PTI, New Delhi

Cautioning that absence of economic reforms will slow down growth, Finance Minister P Chidambaram vesterday said political parties may oppose but should not obstruct.

"Every government is entitled to lay down policies. Opposition to policies is legitimate, obstructionism is not," Chidambaram said while addressing the annual Economic Editors' Conference.

Referring to the government decision to allow FDI in multi-brand retail. Chidambaram said, "We must not fear foreign investments in India."

quiz Quashem.

Prosecutor Sultan Mahmud Simon in his submission on the petition told the tribunal the investigation officer could not complete quizzing Quashem because of time constraint. That is why the investigation officer needs two more days, he argued.

Allowing one day for interrogation, the tribunal directed the investigation agency through the prosecution to inform defence counsel Tanvir Ahmed Al-Amin 48 hours before interrogation.

Quizzing for one more day

The tribunal however did not fix any date for the interrogation.

War crimes investigators quizzed Quashem on September 15. Investigation officer Nurul Islam that day said they got "important information" about Quashem's alleged involvement in crimes against humanity and appointing lobbyists abroad for a campaign against his trial.

The tribunal yesterday heard submission of both the defence and the prosecution on several petitions.

At the gathering, at Khizari Model High School of Ramu, Hasina said the perpetrators must be traced through photographs and video footage.

"They should be given strict punishment so that no one dare committing such offences in the future ... cases should be filed under the speedy trial act."

Referring to the recent comments of the opposition leader on the Ramu incidents, Hasina said it was understandable after hearing all about the happenings who were involved in the incidents.

"The opposition leader knows everything about the attacks."

On the night of September 29, a mob of religious zealots went on the rampage in Ramu of Cox's Bazar, leaving 12 temples and monasteries and over 50 houses destroyed. The violence was apparently triggered by a Facebook posting of a Tarek also spoke on the Urging the people to assist the investigation committee, she called upon all not to unleash any attack instigated by others.

Hasina said the recent incidents of attacks seem to be premeditated as people from outside joined the midnight mayhem.

She asked the administration to intensify their vigil to avert such incidents ahead of the upcoming Durga Puja and Eid-ul-Azha.

"Islam speaks for peace. We've learnt from our prophet that Islam never allows interfering in other religions. Those who launched the attacks don't believe in any religion," Hasina observed.

At one stage, she invited Satyapriya Mohathero, chief of the Ramu Central Sima Bihar, to say something.

With the prime minister standing beside him, Satyapriya Mohathero termed the Ramu violence unexpected and said, "We've never thought that such incidents can happen." He also urged all to main-

Earlier, Hasina distributed cheques amounting to Tk 2.48 crore including Tk 1.34 crore from the Prime Minister's Relief Fund to the people affected by the sectarian violence.

She also distributed 307 bundles of corrugated iron sheets, 35.42 tonnes of rice, 246 pieces of blankets, some tents, sarees, lungis, shirts, three-pieces, bed sheets, books and other necessary items to the affected people.

The premier also addressed high officials of the district administration and later the local leaders of the Awami League-led grand alliance in two separate meetings at the Cox's Bazar Circuit House.
