GPH becomes first local steel mill to export billet

Justin Uddin Haroon
The country's youngest steel manufacturer said it has become the country's first company to export billet worth US$2.5 million and high demand for its products in the Gulf nations and South East Asia.
GPH Ispat Limited, a Chittagong-based steel manufacturer, exported 3500 tonnes of billet, an intermediate raw material for manufacturing mild steel (MS) rod, to Sri Lanka early this week and was in negotiation with two other countries. "We exported our export to Sri Lanka this (Monday) morning. We are now talking with prospects from Laos and the United Arab Emirates to export another 6000 tonnes of billet next," Md Jahangir Alam, chairman and managing director of GPH.
The demand for rod and steel products surged in the UAE and Laos and has been in continuous activities in the two of Asia's fastest growing economies.
"Buyers from the both countries have visited our factory and are impressed with our products. Our price is also competitive," Alam said.
GPH - which is the acronym of God, Plain Living and High Thinking - has started its operation in January this year and in 150,000 sqm of the site, the factory has a capacity to produce 250,000 tonnes of billet and 600,000 tonnes of mild steel rod a day.
It also installed a world class a German-made steel laboratory right in its factory - the first of its kind in Bangladesh.
