Clothing brands cover up safety flaws

States int'l labour rights forum about accidents at garment factories

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Major global apparel companies continue to put at risk the lives of garment workers in Bangladesh by covering up problems identified in confidential audits and ignoring best fire safety practices, a Washington-based labour rights group said yesterday.

Brands and retailers have conducted factory audits but not warned government agencies or workers about imminent dangers, the International Labor Rights Forum (ILRF) said in its 60-page report, Deadly Secrets.

"The brands and retailers collectively possess thousands of confidential factory audits that may reveal workplace hazards and even imminent threats to workers' health and safety. But it seems they have chosen to cease business with factories to safeguard their reputation and brand images rather than reveal their deadly secrets and tell workers about the risks they face. They have kept their silence."

The report from the advocacy organisation came in the wake of two recent deadly factory fires in Pakistan

BSF to use chilli bombs at border

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

To tackle illegal activities along the border with Bangladesh, Indian Border Security Force (BSF) will now use a new type of bomb containing world's hottest chilli powder, instead of explosives, reported BBC yesterday.

The initiative has been taken to minimise the incident of border killing, and check illegal entry of smugglers and unauthorised persons, BSF officials claimed.

The BSF authorities call it "Chilli Bomb."

There will be a thumb-size pocket containing "Bhut Jolokia" or "ghost chilli" powder inside each bomb with a tear-shell like shape. It will explode like a hand grenade and immobilise the suspect.

"Bhut Jolokia" is

"I urge the patriotic armed forces, civil administration and the people of the country to remain alert," she said.

Branding Syed Abul Hossain and Abul Hasan Chowdhury as "thieves," BNP Chairperson Khaleda Zia yesterday said the government spared the duo to protect some other bigwigs from being exposed.

"Country's image has been destroyed through bribery even before the construction of Padma bridge. Why are the Abuls excluded? The fact is the government knows that some bigwigs' name would come up [in the Padma

WAR CRIMES TRIAL Ghulam Azam seeks retrial

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Defence counsels for former Jamaat chief Ghulam Azam yesterday filed a 600-page petition seeking retrial of the crimes against humanity case against their client.

Abdur Razzaq, chief defence counsel for war crimes accused Jamaat leaders, yesterday told International Crimes Tribunal-1 that trial of a case proceeding begins from charge framing. "Incident of forgery took place in Ghulam Azam's charge framing," he claimed.

He said his claims were based on the alleged Skype conversation between former Tribunal-1 chief Justice Md Nizamul Huq and legal expert Ahmed Ziauddin, on which Bangla daily Amar Desh had published a series of reports recently.

Justice Huq stepped down following the publications of the "transcript of the conversation".

The tribunal, led by Chairman Justice ATM Fazle Kabir and his two members Justice Jahangir Hossain Selim and Justice Md Anwarul Haque, fixed Monday for hearing the petition.
