

Fellaini to dye his hair silver

Marouane Fellaini's hair has been one of the enduring wonders of the Premier League for years. To celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Blues' official charity, the midfielder has committed to dye his famous 'fro' silver - but only if Evertonians can reach a fundraising target of £25,000. "Our fans have already given thousands of pounds to support Everton in the Community but there's still a long way to go, so I hope that my silver hair challenge will help to bring in lots more money and make a difference," he said.

Hard work pays off for Robiul

SAKEB SUBHAN from Harare

Two days before the second Test began, Bangladesh coach Shane Jurgensen, speaking at the team hotel in Harare, talked in depth about the bowling in the first Test which the Tigers lost by 335 runs. In his appraisal he gushed about Robiul Islam, who had taken nine for 155 amidst the embarrassment. He had seen the hard work Robiul had put in at the National Cricket Academy in the months before the tour of Sri Lanka. He talked about the fitness regimes, and how hard it was for the Sathkhira lad to slog day in and day out on his fitness and bowling. One quote lingers in the ear: "That's how good players are created. It is not just the skill and talent, but long periods of hard work on those assets that produce result."

On this tour, and especially yesterday, the results showed. On a pitch that has played much better than the strip used in the first Test, Robiul was lethal. His line was immaculate and he seemed a slower version of Dayle Steyn as like the South African pace supremo, his stock delivery was the one that was most dangerous -- darting into the stumps before moving away in the air and off the seam at the last moment. The hard work that he put in was evident in the amazing level of fitness he showed in bowling a marathon opening spell of 11 overs. Robiul beat the bat with his lethal stock delivery on a regular basis and was finally rewarded with the wicket of Chakabva in the 11th over, caught behind by skipper Mushfiquir Rahim, who had dropped a difficult chance in Robiul's previous over. The same formula was repeated in his next over, the away-moving ball kissing the edge of Sibanda's bat on its way to Mushfiquir's glove. But the battle of the day was between the bowler of the series and the batsman of the series. His approach to Brendan Taylor was different from the first Test. Keeping true to their coach's words before the Test, Robiul and co. attacked the opposition skipper

Munna springs a surprise

SPORTS REPORTER

Teenage shooter Rabbi Hasan Munna caused a massive surprise at the National Shooting Complex in Gulshan yesterday clinching gold in the most vaunted event -- 10m Air Rifle -- beating defending champion Abdullahel Baki to second place. Rabbi from Bangladesh Krira Shikkha Protisthan (BKSP), who qualified for the eight-member final as the last man, pulled off the surprise result under the new rules to defeat his idol Baki after scoring 204.1 out of 209 in his first competition at the senior level. Mahmudul Hasan Sajib bagged bronze with a score of 182.1. "I did not imagine defeating shooters like Baki Bhai in the shoot-off. All I wanted to do was to shoot the way I practiced and I managed it. However, I will say that luck favoured me," said a smiling Rabbi, who got admitted to shooting at BKSP in 2009

after initially trying out and failing in his dream of becoming a well-recognized cricketer. The introduction of the new rules also saw Syeda Sadia Sultana emerged new champion in women's 10m Air Rifles beating her illustrious partners Sharmin Akter Ratna, Sharmin Akter and Sabrina Sultana. Baki, who became first in qualification with a score of 594, had led the way till the 16th shot before he slipped in the last four to finish behind Rabbi with a score of 203.6 points. Though Rabbi from Tangail pulled off the surprise result in the shoot-off, his qualification score (582) is not good enough to move into the finals at any international, or even sometimes national tournament. "It will take another two to three years to improve his qualification scores," believed BKSP coach Asbab Ali Foyez. On the other hand, SA Games and South Asian Shooting Championship gold medalist Asif had no dissatisfaction despite being eliminated from qualification in his pet event for the first time at the national level competition. He finished tenth with a score of 576.

Hamidul lifts new record

SPORTS REPORTER

Bangladesh Army's Hamidul Islam and Sher-e-Bangla Agricultural University's Mollah Sabira Sultana set new national records in weightlifting at the National Sports Council Gymnasium yesterday. SA Games gold-medallist Hamidul set records in both clean & jerk (149kg) as well as snatch (116kg) on way to setting an overall record (265kgs) in the 69kg category. The previous record (261kg) was set by Hamidul himself in the last national meet in 2011. The Army man seemingly ambled through the weights without much effort and ensured gold while his competitors fell by the way side. Hamidul believed that he could have lifted more weight, with one lift remaining, but that was enough to earn him both gold and the record. "I could have lifted more, but my team decided that it wasn't needed. I won the gold and set the record which was a result of three months of hard work," said Hamidul, who shifted from the 77kg category, since his gold medal win in that event in 2010 SA Games, to 69kg category. Sabira, competing in the 48kg category, set her record in the clean & jerk (76kg) while her snatch effort (64kg) fell short of the previous mark by a couple of kilograms. Meanwhile, Ainuddin of Ansar won gold in the 56kg category, Shimul Kanti Singha of Bangladesh Army won gold in the 62kg category and Monoronjan Roy of Bangladesh Army won gold in the 77kg category.
