

Bulu denied bail

COURT CORRESPONDENT

A Dhaka court yesterday sent BNP lawmaker Barkatullah Bulu to jail after rejecting his remand and bail petitions in a case over attacking law enforcers and obstructing them from their duties on March 11.

He was shown arrested in the case filed on that day, although his name was not included in the FIR.

Detectives arrested Bulu, also a BNP joint secretary general, on Wednesday after he came out of the party headquarters in the capital's Nayapaltan. Bulu walked free from Kashimpur Central Jail on April 22.

Bulu was earlier sent to jail in eight cases over torching vehicles, assaulting police and obstructing them from their duties during the opposition's programmes.

A migrant worker's tale of sufferings

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Taslina worked more than three years as a domestic help in Lebanon for a monthly pay fixed at Tk 10,000. She returned home this April, but without a penny.

The girl, now 18, was not only denied her salaries but had gone through a period of cruelty and brutalisation since January 2010 when she was employed.

"My employer, a Lebanese woman, started torturing me when I asked for my salary for the seventh month," Taslima said. "For the last six months, she seared different parts of my body with a heated iron whenever I demanded money," she told The Daily Star.

Taslina, daughter of a landless family of Charbhadrans upazila, Faridpur, is being treated for the burn wounds in Dhaka Medical College Hospital (DMCH).

She said the Lebanese lady forced her into working in a locked room from 6:00am to 1:00am the next day (19 hours) every single day.

Taslina's mother died last year. "I think, mom died thinking of my miseries," she said.

Taslina wanted to return to Bangladesh but her employer denied sending her back.

She finally arrived home on April 4 after expiry of the three-year contract period. She said she had migrated to Lebanon to actually work there as a tailor.

Taslina said she had dreamt of removing the insolvency of her poor family but failed to do so and returned empty handed though it took Tk 60,000 for her to migrate.

"My father sent me through local brokers, as we were poor," she said.

The local brokers, Shafi Mollah and Siraj, are agents of Hasan International, a registered private recruiting agency in Dhaka.

A case was filed against the two with Charvadrans Police Station in Faridpur on April 16 in this connection, said Officer-in-Charge Mazharul Islam.

The OC said the brokers deceived the girl. Police were trying to arrest them, he added.

Begum Shamsunnahar, director general of the Bureau of Manpower Employment and Training (BMET), said they would conduct an inquiry against the recruiting agency and take proper actions if it was found guilty.

Although the traffic police department created a separate lane for rickshaws by putting plastic dividers on Shahjahanpur-Fakirapul road in the capital last year, rickshaw pullers did not use the part of the street. So police removed those plastic barriers and dumped those near Malibagh bazar, inset, recently.

GRAFT CASE Suranjit's ex-APS indicted

COURT CORRESPONDENT

A Dhaka court yesterday framed charges against Omar Faruque Talukdar, sacked assistant private secretary (APS) of former railways minister Suranjit Sengupta, in a corruption case.

The Anti-Corruption Commission (ACC) filed the case against Faruque, a key figure in the railwaygate scandal, on August 14 last year for amassing wealth of Tk 1.43 crore through illegal means and concealing information about wealth worth Tk 50 lakh. The court will start hearing of the trial on July 4.

Faruque was sent to jail on December 11 last year on his surrender in connection with the case. He is now on a High Court bail.

Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB) detained Faruque, the then railway general manager Yusuf Ali Mridha and Divisional Commandant Enamul Huq after a car carrying them entered the BGB Headquarters in the capital on April 9 last year. BGB also seized Tk 70 lakh from the car.

Achieving education for all by 2015 unlikely

Says Unesco report

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The goal set by 164 countries, including Bangladesh, to ensure education for all, is unlikely to be achieved by 2015, according to a Unesco report.

Although Bangladesh has done well in ensuring access to primary and female education, concerns lie in ensuring equality in education and increasing the rate of adult literacy and the quality of teachers, it said.

In collaboration with Bangladesh National Commission for Unesco (BNCU) and Save the Children, Unesco Dhaka office launched the report titled "Education For All Global Monitoring Report (EFAGMR)-2012" at BANBEIS Bhaban in the capital yesterday.

Education For All is a global movement led by Unesco, aiming to meet the learning needs of all children, youth and adults.

In 2000, the countries had set six targets, including promoting early entry into universal primary education, addressing youth and adult learning needs, ensuring gender parity in education, and improving quality of education.

But, many of the countries have failed to take necessary steps to achieve the targets, the report said.

According to the report, Bangladesh is one of the three low-income countries where more girls than boys have enrolled in secondary level educational institutions.

In Bangladesh, the richest spend four times more than the poorest on private tuition, it said.

Education Secretary Dr Kamal Abdul Naser Chowdhury and Save the Children, Bangladesh Country Director Michael McGrath also spoke there.
