

Portraits of Little Street Fighters

There are thousands of children living in slums and on the streets of Dhaka alone. Some are orphans; others are runaways escaping poverty, neglect or abuse. These 'street' children originate from all over Bangladesh and often come with their families looking for work. They always have to fight in this mega city to survive. As Eid approaches what festivities and celebrations can they look forward to?

SUDEEPTO SALAM

