MIR QUASEM'S TRIAL

Decision on indictment Aug 29

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The International Crimes Tribunal-1 yesterday fixed August 29 to decide about indicting Jamaat-e-Islami leader Mir Quasem Ali on crimes against humanity committed during the Liberation War in 1971.

The tribunal also fixed today to hear a petition filed by the prosecution of the case against former Jamaat chief Ghulam Azam seeking contempt proceedings against New York-based Human Rights Watch for its report on the verdict.

The three-member tribunal headed by Justice ATM Fazle Kabir had fixed the date in Quasem's case after the prosecution gave reply to the arguments on his discharge petition.

Quasem of killing eight Bangalees and torturing at least 27 people in Chittagong during the war. Prosecutor Sultan Mahmud Simon said Quasem was general secretary of Islami Chhatra Sangha, the then student wing of Jamaat, from November 7, 1971 till the victory of Bangladesh. Jamaat's incumbent

General Secretary Ali Ahsan Mohammad Mojaheed, who was given capital punishment for committing war crimes, was president of Chhatra Sanghathen. Quoting verdict of Mojaheed's case, another prosecutor Tapas Kanti Baul argued that Quasem was in superior status because of his anti-liberation force infamous for the planned killings of intellectuals at the fag end of the war, was made up of Chhatra Sangha members. The judgement of Mojaheed's case reads, "Al-Badr was created under the active vigilance of Jamaat-e-Islami and Pakistani occupation army, and it may be unerringly concluded that it acted as an 'auxiliary force' for 'operational', 'static' and 'other purposes' of the occupation armed force."

Earlier on August 19, the defence placed arguments on their discharge petition. The defence argued that the charges pressed by the prosecution were not specific and prayed to the tribunal to exonerate Quasem from the Defence counsel Tanvir

Ahmed Al-Amin that day said the identities of the murder victims in the proposed charges No 11-12 were not specified. In charge No 11, the prosecution failed to specify the identity of victim Jashim and other "so-called" five unknown dead, he added. If the prosecution were unable to provide specific dates of the incidents, they should have refrained from including the events in the formal charge, he said. Following reply from the prosecution, Tanvir prayed to the tribunal to keep pending the indictment decision until September 8 as chief defence counsel Abdur Razzaq was abroad.

The tribunal rejected the prayer and fixed the date.

of work to a single company also delayed the project.

This not only cost time but also increased the project cost by 47 percent. According to the IMED study, the estimated project cost now stands at Tk 3,190 crore which was originally Tk 2,168 crore.

As a priority project, the last BNP-led government had floated a tender for the project to pre-qualifying bidders in October 2005, before it was approved in January 2006. The construction work was then split into 10 packages. But the then government suddenly hurried the tender preparation and asked officials to fix designs, work schedule and work costs within seven days. This resulted in inconsistencies in the work costs.

When the BNP-led government's tenure ended and a military-backed caretaker government took over in January, 2007, the latter cancelled the tender over corruption allegations. Inconsistency in work costs was also one of the reason for the cancellation. Since then the project has remained jinxed. In March, 2008, a second tender was floated which got stuck in court when some firms filed writs. By the time the writs were settled, the AL-led government assumed office. In April, 2009, it floated the tender for the third time and finalised it in October that year. Similarly, four years were wasted in appointing the design and supervision consultant as the first contractor appointed in 2006 had failed to fulfil some contractual obligations. Another contractor was appointed in 2010.

Finally, the road work began in January, 2010, and the bridge work in February, 2012. By this time, six years had elapsed.
