

Fire breaks out at Savar RMG unit

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Savar
A fire broke out in a garment factory, Nipun Garment (Pvt) Ltd., on the second floor of Chourangi Super Market at Savar Bus Stand yesterday, gutting garment accessories. Witnesses said the fire spread to the factory in the morning ten minutes after explosion of a nearby Palli Bidyut transform. Fire fighters doused the blaze in one and a half hours. Khan Khalilur Rahman, station officer of Savar Fire Service and Civil Defence, said electric short circuit might cause the fire.

into her Aditmaru upazila residence, says our Lalmonirhat correspondent. She is now being treated for excessive bleeding, said Aditmaru Upazila Health Complex doctors. The husband, a local rice trader, was not at home and passers-by, on finding the door broken, found her unconscious and took her to the doctors. Local police assured of taking steps once the family files a complaint.

RMG workers tell

Another worker, Aklima, said, "Workers cannot leave the factory until they are too sick to move." A quality inspector, Bilkis, said she has to stand for hours on end and was reprimanded if she tries to sit. She disclosed that workers are not allowed to carry cellphones, making it very difficult to reach anyone in case of emergencies. "I could not reach my husband, who is also a garment worker, when my son died in a train accident. I let the administration know and they did not notify him until hours later," she said. Another worker, Dipti Akter, said her supervisors verbally abused her even if she tried to pass instructions to the helper assigned to her. She also revealed that there are only four toilets for 250 people at the factory where she works. "We require a special card to enter the toilets. Obtaining that and then waiting in line takes up a lot of time, after which we are reprimanded for wasting time. All that for a toilet which is too dirty to use," she said. They are also often served contaminated drinking water straight from the tap, she added. Bangladesh Mahila Parishad Chairperson Ayesha Khanam maintained that the owners are still cheating workers and violating their rights despite the recent international pressure against such practices.

She said her father Dukhu Miah is a rickshaw puller and earns only Tk 5,000 to Tk 5,500 monthly, which is not enough to maintain their household costs and education costs. "I also have a younger brother who is a class one student of Emandipur Brac School," she said.

Under three categories-- poster design/painting, quiz, and extempore speech, 30 qualified for the national round due on September 20 following the Dhaka and Chittagong rounds. Praising the initiative for holding the event outside the capital, Prof Haque said such contests would help the next generation fight the challenges of the future. Scholarshome Principal Brig Gen (ret'd) Zobayer Siddiqui, Manager (Corporate Sustainability) of HSBC Abdullah Al Jubayer, Managing Director of East Coast Group Tanjil Chowdhury, and SUST Assistant Professor Azizul Haque also spoke. The large campus of Scholarshome in the city's Shahi Eidgah area wore a festive look with hundreds of school children who joined the daylong contest. Prof Zohir-Bin Alam, head of the civil and environmental engineering department of SUST, led the seven-member panel of judges. The joint initiative aims to create awareness among the youth about climate change and earth and to stimulate creativity and freedom of thinking in them.

the afternoon, said BIWTC officials. A seven-kilometre tailback was created initially on the road. However, 500 trucks, 200 buses and 150 small vehicles were still stuck on the road till filing of this report at 9:00pm. The ferry with four buses and 19 small vehicles could not be moved yet. BIWTC has started dredging channels to avoid such incidents and expects to resume the service within 72 hours. Three K-type ferries, which can accommodate four buses each, will continue plying on the routes. Three Ro-Ro ferries carrying half its capacity have been plying from 6:00pm.

the presidents of the ICAB and the Institute of Cost and Management Accountants of Bangladesh (ICMAB) and nine government-nominated representatives. Humayun Kabir, an ex-president of the ICAB, said the government should strengthen the monitoring of the ICAB if it really wanted to improve the quality of the profession. "Even if the government wants to implement the act, it should employ professionals at the FRC instead of appointing people who don't have knowledge about the profession." Another former president of the ICAB, ASM Nayeem, said the planned bureaucratic control would corrupt the profession. The plan to appoint non-professionals at the FRC is a blueprint to destroy the ICAB, said Syful Islam, another ex-president of the ICAB.
