Polytechnic students clash with cops in Sherpur, Bogra

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

At least 80 people including 12 policemen were injured as polytechnic students clashed with the law enforcers in Sherpur and Bogra yesterday during demonstrations demanding elimination of "professional discrimination" against diploma engineers and "timely promotion" of teachers at the institutes.

In Sherpur, police arrested around 30 students after about 150 students, stopped by police from forming a human chain blocking the Mymensingh-Sherpur highway, vandalised their institute, said Mazharul Karim, officer-in-charge, Sherpur Sadar Police Station.

Police charged batons, and fired 20 tear gas shells, and 110 shotgun bullets, he said.

At least 10 students were injured as polytechnic students in Bogra clashed with police while vandalising public property.

The students also blocked the Kachua-Sachar highway in Chandpur for around an hour.

Meanwhile, polytechnic students have threatened to boycott their final examinations from tomorrow in a bid to press home the demands, said a press release of Bangladesh Karigari Chhatra Parishad.

The Parishad organised a human chain at Dhaka Polytechnic Institute in Tejgaon and later tried to block the road, but were stopped by police. Agitated, they then vandalised the institute.

Under the banner, "We will not become supervisors or give exams", the association demonstrated against the 2008 government move to give entry-level diploma engineers the post of "supervisor". It also demanded introducing a new system of promotion for diploma engineers.

Handing over the awards as special guest, Finance Minister AMA Muhit said the young generation should follow in the footsteps of Prof Ibrahim and the principles he set as a successful physician, gifted teacher, talented socio-health organiser and a great reformer.

Dr Ibrahim worked as per his motto, "no diabetic patient should die untreated, unfed or unemployed even if she/he is poor", providing primary care to diabetic patients free of cost, irrespective of their socio-economic, racial or religious status, said the parishad Vice-President Daulatun Neesha.

MJF moves to help

Sarah Cooke, country representative of DFID Bangladesh, said Bangladesh had made significant progress in many sectors but too many people were left behind, and COPE was for those people.

"By December 2016, it will have helped many of them gain access to assets and economic opportunities and have a greater say in decisions affecting their lives."

Prime Minister's International Affairs Adviser Prof Gowher Rizvi praised the non-government organisations for their pivotal role in the country's development especially in achieving Millennium Development Goals (MDGs). Terming NGOs as development partners of the government, Gowher emphasised their joint role in poverty eradication.

Nurun Nabi Talukder, director general of NGO Affairs Bureau, and Priya Powell, counsellor, Head of Development Corporation, AusAid, Bangladesh, among others, also spoke.

After the first session, Rina Roy and Shamim Imam, directors of MJF; and Moinul Haque and Abdullah Al Mamun, MJF managers; demonstrated different aspects of the programme.

In the session, Executive Director of Transparency International, Bangladesh Dr Iftekharuzzaman, also a member of MJF Board, asked the partner organisations to ensure transparency and accountability of their activities.

Later, Shaheen Anam and Parvin Mahmood, another member of MJF Board, answered the queries of the partner organisation representatives.

On the occasion, four partner organisations were given awards as "outstanding organisations for compliance and financial management."

These are Mohidev Jobu Samaj Kalyan Samity (MJSKS), Kurigram; SKS Foundation, Gaibandha; RDRS Bangladesh, Rangpur; and Bandhu Social Welfare Society (BSWS), Dhaka.

JU teachers go on fresh work

An investigation team, upon directions from JU Chancellor and President Abdul Hamid, was formed on September 2 to recommend an acceptable solution.

The teachers launched a movement on April 14 demanding the VC's removal for not expelling a Bangladesh Chhatra League leader, who allegedly assaulted a teacher earlier.

The other allegations include anomalies in teachers' recruitment and admission processes, making unwelcome comments about teachers, and misusing funds.

Reintroduce 'no vote'

"Of the EC's proposals, the law ministry rejected at least two important ones, including section 44b(6) which states that EC would monitor campaigning expenditure of candidates," he said.

Such rejections might have adverse effects in the long run as a culture of vote buying during polls has turned into a threat to the country's democracy, he said.

The speakers also alleged that the EC had unsuccessfully tried to undermine its own power and now urged the government to introduce some amendments to the RPO without discussing it with stakeholders.

"The EC needs to be empowered for the sake of people's interest as well as transparency," said Bangladesh Poribesh Andolon President ASM Shahjahan.

He said, despite the presence of laws and governance, the country lacked a proper combination of the two, that is good governance.

Former Justice Kazi Ebadul Haque said it was the EC's constitutional duty to hold a free and fair poll. "If the EC fails to do so, then the people would not forgive them," he said.

Former adviser to a caretaker government M Hafizuddin Khan and Gonoshasthaya Kendra founder Dr Zafrullah Chowdhury also spoke.

SHUIAN is scheduled to form a human chain regarding the issue before Jatiya Press Club on October 1 at 10:30am.
