

My story with China

RASHEDUL ISLAM

HELLO everyone! My name is Rashedul Islam. I am studying my masters in Computer Science and Technology in Tsinghua University of China. I really enjoy speaking Chinese and like Chinese people's hospitality. Every body knows that the pro-found Chinese culture have five thousand years golden history. So I wanted to come to this ancient and mysterious country.

In this hope I started to study Chinese language in Dhaka University on 2007. At that time my understanding about China was still stuck as watched it on television. I thought that every Chinese people knows Kung fu, they wear ancient costume, live in the courtyard. However, after coming to China I found that it is completely different with my imagination. First arriving at the Capital Airport, I realized that this is a modern city. Viaduct is everywhere, just like playing the snake ladder game. Beijing abound modern architecture let me feel dizzy.

Of course, staying in China for six years I have not just improved my Chinese level but also participated a lot of activities in my university and outside of my university campus. By participating those activities a won a lot of awards, as example : Capital Normal University Chinese Day performers award, the second session of the Beijing Foreign Student's Chinese Star Contest "Chinese Star", fourth Beijing college students debating competition the best debater and our team won the third prize., CCTV sixth Chinese bridge competition award of excellence etc.

This year in Chinese bridge competition I won the top 30 on behalf of Bangladesh. Although I did not get the champion but between this competition I improved my Chinese level a lot and learn plenty of important things of Chinese culture. I also made couple of very good friends from different countries. I will definitely continue to participate in next year Chinese Bridge Competition and hope to make better results. Everybody say come on for me please!

Certainly, not only this year's Chinese Bridge Competition makes me so happy but also was admitted to Tsinghua University is undoubtedly fulfill my dream. Because of studying hard and all other activities have outstanding performance, I have been enjoying the Chinese Government Scholarship from 2007 to 2016. Here I also want to thanked Chinese government. I also won the Excellent Student Scholarship Award three times in all of my three years in University of Science and Technology Beijing. Right now I am a graduate student at Tsinghua University. In Tsinghua campus my favorite is Shuimuqinghua and Jinchunyuan Lake. Certainly have the quiet and beautiful library where I always love to spend most of my time. This article is also written by sitting in the library.

Above all, I am having a great time here in China. In the coming days I will have been working hard as the past and continue to improve myself. I hope the friends who read this article also say Come on for me! Thank you!!
