The bodies will be sent to Bangladesh after Kuwait police gives the clearance by this week, said Ali Reza.
Meanwhile, local miscreants stabbed two Bangladeshi nationals to death and set fire to a grocery shop in South Africa on Saturday.
The victims, Selim Dewan and Faruk Ahmed, used to work at the shop, said Bangladesh foreign ministry sources.
They were killed over previous enmity with the goons, added the foreign ministry sources quoting South African police.

sidium member.

Nasim urged Khaleda to immediately stop bomb blasts, vandalism and anarchy in the name of hartal. He also urged people, especially pro-liberation forces, to resist evil designs of antiliberation elements.

The meeting unanimously thanked the premier for initiating the process for a dialogue and criticised Khaleda for "turning it down".

Workers' Party of Bangladesh President
Rashed Khan Menon said even though the proposal was for yesterday, the door for discussions would remain open.

Sharif Nurul Ambia, Mahbubul Alam Hanif,
Jahangir Kabir Nanak,

Govt staging drama

Replying to a question, Fakhru said it was not important who would contact for dialogue.
"The important thing is to have the crisis resolved through talks," he said. "But we think the government should make the move as it's in the driving seat." Fakhru informed reporters that AL General Secretary Syed Ashrafur Islam was yet to respond to his letter inviting him to discussion.
About the Grameen Bank Bill 2013 placed in parliament on Sunday, he said the government was trying to destroy the bank of the poor by establishing control over it.

Addressing another press conference at the same venue, the BNP spokesperson said the government would be held accountable for every killing and injury during this movement, as a huge time had passed since the opposition urged the government to hold talks.

Fakhru also alleged the government's involvement in the attacks on media persons during the hartal.

the backdrop of his four-day visit to New Delhi where he held a series of meetings with Indian government officials, including Foreign Secretary Sujatha Singh.

"Ambassador Mozena and Indian High Commissioner Pankaj Saran met this afternoon and discussed a range of issues, including Ambassador Mozena's recent visit to New Delhi," US Embassy spokesperson Kelly S McCarthy said yesterday.

Mozena went to New Delhi on October 23 and returned to Dhaka on October 26 also "as part of his ongoing consultations with the US Embassy in New Delhi."

Diplomatic sources said Mozena and Pankaj, who earlier met on October 22, yesterday talked at US ambassador's residence for over an hour and discussed the phone conversation between Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina and opposition leader Khaleda Zia and deterioration of the political situation with hartal, violence and deaths.

They said though there were some common concerns of the US and India on Bangladesh like counterterrorism, connectivity and energy cooperation, Delhi had more issues with

The paper will strengthen access to official statistics and industrial database and upgrade the system of national accounts and registration of national population.
The Cabinet also gave nod to the drafts of Comilla University (Amendment) Bill, 2013 and University of Barisal (Amendment) Bill, 2013, creating the posts of pro-vice chancellors and permanent posts of treasurers.

It also approved in principle the draft of Khulna Agriculture University Bill, 2013 to establish the university.

Musharraf said the proposal from the Ministry of Education on recognising Qawmi madrasa education was not placed.

Dhaka, and thus the US and India had differences of opinions on Bangladesh issues.

The two envoys, however, were unanimous about peace and political stability in Bangladesh and the need for a free, fair, peaceful and participatory election to continue the democratic process.

Sources said they also talked of the opposition leader's recent announcement about showing zero tolerance on issues like corruption, extremism, and terrorism.

'Lost world' discovered in Australia

AFF, Sydney

An expedition to a remote part of northern Australia has uncovered three new vertebrate species isolated for millions of years, with scientists yesterday calling the area a "lost world".

Conrad Hoskin from James Cook University and a National Geographic film crew were dropped by helicopter onto the rugged Cape Melville mountain range on Cape York Peninsula earlier this year and were amazed at what they found.

It included a bizarre looking leaf-tail gecko, a gold-coloured skink -- a type of lizard -- and a brown-spotted, yellow boulder-dwelling frog, none of them ever seen before.

"The top of Cape Melville is a lost world. Finding these new species up there is the discovery of a lifetime -- I'm still amazed and buzzing from it," said Hoskin, a tropical biologist from the Queensland-based university.
