JIM MORRISON

James Douglas Jim Morrison was an American singer-songwriter and poet, best remembered as the lead singer of Los Angeles rock band The Doors. From a young age, Morrison became infatuated with the works of Friedrich Nietzsche, Arthur Rimbaud and Jack Kerouac, emphasising his high intellect and ability to incorporate their work into his lyrics, making him one of the most artistic and influential singer-songwriters of all time, along with his songwriting partner in The Doors, Robby Krieger.

"There are things known and things unknown and in between are the doors.

Whoever controls the media, controls the mind.

Hatred is a very underestimated emotion.

I see myself as an intelligent, sensitive human, with the soul of a clown which forces me to blow it at the most important moments."

Sohana Saba

Sohana Saba has quite a few identities attached to her name. From modeling to dancing or fashion designing, and also acting on the big and small screen, Saba has carved a niche in our media. "Since my childhood, I always wanted to a well-recognised celebrity like a famous actor of our country," she says. Saba has acted in many popular and critic acclaimed movies like Khelaghar, Aaina, Priyotomeshu in her career. This week she shares some of the tidbits of her life on and off camera.

Most significant achievement

My fans' love and admiration for my work.

Favourite city

Dhaka is very close to my heart, but my most favourite city would be Kolkata.

The people who have always been an inspiration to you

My mother Rakhshan Hossain and director of my first film, Kabori Sarwar.

When you are not working

I watch lots of movies and flip through different books.

Your most favourite workstation

For my shooting I need to work in different places, so it is hard to name one. But generally I love working in the hilly areas like Srimangal and also in the rural parts of our country.

Your set of work ethics

I try to demonstrate a strong will power and devotion in my work. Whenever I am involved with my work, I try to put in my best effort and complete the task to the best of my ability.
