SYD BARRETT

Roger Keith "Syd" Barrett was an English musician, singer, songwriter, guitarist, and painter, best remembered as a founding member of the band Pink Floyd. He was the lead vocalist, guitarist, and principal songwriter during the band's psychedelic years, providing major musical and stylistic direction in their early work. He is also credited with naming the band. Barrett left the group in April 1968 amid speculations of mental illness exacerbated by drug use, and was briefly hospitalised.

"I'm full of dust and guitars.

The only work I've done the last two years is interviews. I'm very good at it.

If I'd stayed at college I would have become a teacher.

A lot of people want to make films and do photography and things, but I'm quite happy doing what I'm doing."

Yamin Khan

He always used to crack witty and sharp jokes and make his friends and teachers laugh at school! His good sense of humour along with his stage friendly persona was responsible behind his title "class clown" during his school days. This class clown, Yamin Khan, is one of those few names who is making the biggest splash in the comedy scene today in our country. Today many of his fans look forward to laugh along with him at his live performances in Naveed's Comedy Club. We also hear him every Monday on radio in the programme, "Foorti Unlimited." This young talented comic artist talks about his noble job of making people happy.

Things that you need to be a stand-up comedian

Being a comedian means you are an entertainer. Therefore you of course need to have a very good sense of humour and also showmanship to put it up on the stage.

If you were not a stand-up comedian

I would have been either a banker or a film maker

One thing that you would like to do in future

I would like to produce my own sketch comedy show.

Recipe for success

To have a goal and not to give it up.

Favourite work place

Any place where no one is bothering me.
