A sapling was planted in 2002 with a philanthropic vision. Today to see it growing into a fruit bearing tree is an experience that can only be felt in the deepest part of the heart. I can proudly say that the Southeast University is a fruit bearing tree now, which would grow further, and the sky is the limit. We are very fortunate to have outstanding staff, students and faculty members to nurture the tree and take it to new heights.

I, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, would like to congratulate the graduating students on their success. We know that it has not come easy and the way to success has been paved with hardship and the sweat of many individuals, especially their teachers and parents. I also applaud all members of the University family for holding the 3rd Convocation.

It would be a pleasure to see the SEU graduates continuing out to the wider world to take up their respective roles in the society like their predecessors. Our heartfelt tribute to the educators who ensure that the students leave the University fully prepared to compete in the workplace of their choice.

Families never disperse. We are like a family. We will be together wherever we are, and play a supportive role in helping the development of this University. You can always share with us your thoughts for the improvement.

Finally, I would like to remind you that closer to the summit, the going gets tougher. May the Almighty gives you the strength to make your own space in this world of opportunities.

Message

The stunning success of Southeast University marks its 3rd Convocation in every field of its operation. In terms of all comparable parameters of student number, quality of education, faculty lineup, research and publication and the placement of graduates, this University has excelled. True to its mission and vision, we firmly believe in providing quality education at an affordable cost for the aspiring students seeking higher education. At SEU we are trying our best to forge technology into education and convert education into technology in order to bridge the gap of digital divide.

Our alumni are already in the job market and some of them have themselves become entrepreneurs providing jobs to others. This is a true reflection of our cherished goal of contributing to the fast transformation of the national economy into a developed one. We hope that our ceaseless quest for excellence will lead us from strength to strength in the days ahead.

By the grace of Almighty Allah and the support of our honorable members of the Board of Trustees, we have already built a part of our permanent campus and four departments are now operating from there to the complete satisfaction of the students and the faculty members. This is obviously a milestone in our journey from the humble beginning at the start to a full blown, vibrant and excellent seat of learning.

Southeast University is now a natural choice and destination for higher education for the college leavers who find here all the options available in a student-friendly ambience and can have access to highly qualified and innovative faculty members.

We believe that our graduates who will earn their degrees today will be imbued with the zeal of patriotism, love for their alma mater and dedication to the service to society throughout their career. In this world of fierce competition, they will excel by dint of their knowledge and skill coupled with sincere devotion to work.

On behalf of Southeast University I, finally, wish them all a happy, prosperous and glorious future.
