OUR CORRESPONDENT, N'ganj

The probe team, formed following a High Court order, yesterday quizzed two members of Rapid Action Battalion over the abduction and murder of seven people in Narayanganj in late April this year.

The seven-member team, led by Additional Secretary of the Ministry of Public Administration Shahjahan Ali Molla, interrogated Abdus Salam, deputy assistant director of Rab-11, and Abdus Samad, its member, at Narayanganj Circuit House.

On July 22, the two Rab men gave judicial statements to a Narayanganj court.

Seven people including Narayanganj city panel mayor Nazrul Islam and lawyer Chandan Sarker were kidnapped in two separate incidents on April 27 and found dead in the river Shitalakkhya on April 30 and May 1.

Selina Islam Beauty, wife of Nazrul, filed a case with Fatullah Model Police Station accusing seven including key suspect Nur Hossain, arrested in Kolkata of India on June 14.

Bijoy Kumar Paul, son-in-law of Chandan, filed another case over the killing. Three Rab-11 top officials were fired over their alleged involvement in the murders. The three--Lt Col Tarek Syed Mahmud, Maj Arif Hossain and Lt Commander MM Rana--were later arrested and placed on remand.

country and me was broken," she said.

The 51-year-old writer said, "I am not sure but the home minister has promised that he will make my resident permit long-term. If he doesn't change his mind, I am hopeful that I will get a long-term visa."

She said she might get the long-term permit sometime in September or October, but at present she has a two-month visa.

She added that the ministry needed at least a month's time.

Living in exile for 20 years now, she also claimed that the then Gujarat chief minister Narendra Modi supported her on a couple of occasions when she was forced to exit West Bengal in 2007.

Fed up with hostile attitudes of various governments, Taslima said although she wanted to live a peaceful life in India, she wanted to remain a European citizen.

"I was thrown out of Bangladesh 20 years back. The West Bengal government threw me out for nothing. Then I was under house arrest here because some goons, some religious fundamentalists attacked me in Hyderabad and in Kolkata. They committed the crime, but I got the punishment," she said.

"After that I was thrown out of India and was not allowed to live here from 2008 to 2010. So much injustice has happened in my life in the last 25 years, but now I want to live peacefully in India," said the author.

"For Indian citizenship, I have to give up European citizenship. I don't want to live in Europe but if some problem occurs in India, then I can at least go to those countries," she said when asked if she wants to get Indian citizenship.

Some intellectuals had demanded political asylum for Taslima, but she said, "Political asylum is not possible now. It could have happened in 1994 when I was politically thrown out of Bangladesh. I came here from Sweden and a Swedish citizen doesn't need political asylum in India," she said.

Currently busy writing about human rights violations in Gaza, Taslima is also penning her new book. "I am writing a new book in Bangla on 'women in secularism' and it will come out in January. I want to thank all the people in India for their support and solidarity when the news of government curtailing my resident permit broke," she said.

Metropolitan University Poribar brings out a procession in Sylhet Central Shahid Minar area yesterday demanding arrest and trial of the killers of Khaleduzzaman Khaled, a first year BBA student of the university. Khaled was found dead in Manikona village of the district's Fenchuganj upazila on July 26 five days after he had been abducted from the city.

Appeal against acquittal

Four people were detained initially, and two of them, accused of aggravated assault and illegal firearms possession, were handed prison sentences of 14 years and eight years respectively. The two were freed pending appeal. Besides, the Greek judges also allowed two others, including the farm's owner, to walk free.

The victims protested the verdict outside the court house.

An official of the foreign ministry yesterday told The Daily Star that the government might appeal against the verdict after receiving details from the Bangladesh embassy in Greece.

The alliance wants that the government ensure proper legal protection for Bangladeshis in Greece and undertake independent monitoring of their rights' violation, compliance of labour standards, working and living conditions, and workplace accidents.

Representatives from Ain o Salish Kendra, Manusher Jonno Foundation, CARE Bangladesh, Ovbashi Karmi Kallyan Foundation, Bangladesh Ovbashi Mahila Sramik Association, and Ahsania Mission, among others, were present at the press conference.

the trial of the Jamaat for committing atrocious crimes in 1971, America says banning Jamaat is not right."

He said that though the US said they opposed fundamentalists, they lobbied for religion-based political parties like Jamaat and supported mass killings by Israelis in Gaza.

The speakers said that in 1971, the country opposed Bangladesh's Liberation War and had not changed its stance even today.

"As victims of atrocities, it is our duty to support the unarmed civilians of Palestine, and forgetting our differences we should come together and protest politically against the Israeli aggression," said Mozaffar Hossain Poltu, president of the Peace Council.

Poltu's suggestion of running the United Nations without US funding and shifting its headquarters elsewhere from that country was met with a round of applause.

Economist Prof MM Akash read out an essay commemorating the day.

On August 6, 1945, the US dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima, destroying almost the entire city and killing over 70,000 people outright.

Dr Sarwar Ali, trustee of Liberation War Museum, said all nuclear bombs of the world should be deactivated and destroyed.

The money spent on making these bombs should be, instead, used on healthcare, education, development and social security, he said.

People taking part in the rally carried several placards that read "Stop genocide in Gaza", "Wake up world power," "Thirsty of blood? Take from us but save the innocent," and "Do not just talk, take steps".

Meanwhile, the Khulna city and district such barbaric torture to stop the demonstrating workers from their movement and the treatment activities for them," the statement reads.

The ASK also urged the government and Bangladesh Garment Manufacturers and Exporters Association (BGMEA) to pay salary arrears, other dues and compensation to the workers of the group.

It mentioned that the workers have been observing the hunger strike in the factory since July 28 demanding their three months' (May, June, July) salary arrears, overtime dues and Eid bonus but police and local goons yesterday cordoned the market off and ousted the physicians who were giving treatment to the hunger strikers and charged batons on them.

Police also beat up female workers, workers' leaders and rights activists who went there to express their solidarity with the demonstrators, alleged ASK in the statement.

made by CID after the case was transferred to the unit from Rapid Action Battalion on June 16 by a Dhaka court following a no-confidence petition by Milky's brother Maj Rashedul Haque Khan.

"Babu used to look after Tarek's cable service and real estate development businesses," said ABM Siddiqui Rahman, investigation officer of the case.

Milky's cousin Niloy Khan Milky said the masterminds were yet to be arrested.

He said top suspects--Shakhawat Hossain Chanchal, organising secretary of Dhaka city (north) unit of Jubo League; Zahidul Islam Tipu, general secretary of Awami League's Motijheel unit; and Wahidul Alam Arif, general secretary of Jubo League's Dhaka city (south) unit--were yet to be held.

The names of Tipu and Arif were not included in the charge sheet submitted by Rab on April 16 this year.

Milky, an organising secretary of Jubo League's Dhaka city (south) unit, was gunned down allegedly by Tarek, joint secretary of Dhaka city (south) unit of Jubo League, before a Gulshan shopping mall in the capital on July 30 last year. The scene was captured by the mall's surveillance camera.

Tarek was later killed in a "shootout" between his associates and Rab.
