

Mazar mushrooms to exploit innocent Pabna villagers

AHMED HUMAYUN KABIR TOPU, Pabna

A recently set up so-called mazar (shrine) at Khetupara village of Sujanagar upazila under the district sees thronging of hundreds of diseased people who donate money for healing with the help of the 'mystical spirit' there.

Omar Kazi and his sister Hafiza Begum established the so-called shrine at their Khetupara village home early this year.

"This is grave of Hyder Ali, an oli (Muslim saint) who lived 300 years ago. Once I was ordered in a dream to make a mazar here," Hafiza Begum told this correspondent.

"As we delayed the work, my son Ruhul Kazi died without any disease last year. And so, I built the mazar early this year," Omar Kazi said.

On the other hand, villager Md Nurul Islam said, "They suddenly constructed the mazar here. We did not know about the existence of any oli's grave at the village earlier."

After establishment of the mazar, people started thronging here to take soil as mystical medicine for all diseases but the practice of eating soil stopped amid protest from conscious people, said Md Abdul Mannan Manu, a local.

"We are now giving rice as mystical medicine from the mazar. Hundreds of people from different areas come to here every Friday with hope to get cured," Hafiza said.

"We do not force anybody to give donation but the people who get benefit donate money or other things. Tk 4 to 5 thousand is collected every Friday," Omar Kazi said.

Visiting the spot last Friday, this correspondent found people of different ages putting money into a box there.

"I am suffering from mental problem. I heard that the special medicine of the mazar cures diseases," said Nurunnahar Begum, an elderly woman of Mallikpara village of Sujanagar.

Md Robiul Islam, 60, of Borat village in Kashinathpur of Santhia upazila said he came for the second time to take medicine for ulcer as he felt better by taking it earlier.

Medicine specialist Prof Iftekhar Mahmud, principal of Kushtia Medical College, said, "There is no scientific basis of such treatment. Rather it poses risk due to lack of hygiene."

3 years over, Milon's parents still cry for justice

No charge sheet yet as 'cops involved'

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Noakhali

Three years over, Companiganj police are yet to submit charge sheet in the sensational Milon murder case.

"They are delaying the process of submitting the charge sheet allegedly as some policemen are involved in the murder case," said Abdul Kashem and Kohinoor Begum, parents of slain Shamsuddin Milon, 17, on the eve of his third death anniversary.

We continuously received threats from the accused in the case who is now on bail, alleged the family members of the deceased.

On July 27 in 2011, Milon was returning home after receiving Tk 14,000 by his father sent from abroad.

On the way, he went to Charkara High School premises in Charkara union of Companiganj upazila to meet his cousin Chumki, a Class VI student at the institution.

While waiting in front of the school, UP member Md Jamal Uddin along with some villagers caught Milon, suspecting him a robber.

They beat up Milon mercilessly, leaving him dead on the spot and handed the body to police who kept it with five bodies of other robbers in front of the Companiganj police station.

After publication of a news over the issue in several newspapers, the authorities suspended OC Rafique Ullah, SI Akram Uddin Sheikh, constables Abdur Rahim and Hema Ranjan Chakma of the police station and formed a body to investigate the incident.

Mysteriously all the four policemen were transferred to different parts of the country after formation of the probe body, said Milon's mother Kohinoor Begum.

Later, a case was filed with a court, accusing Charkara UP member Md Jamal Uddin, Nizam Uddin Manik and 20 other unidentified people.

Three months after filing of the case, it was transferred to Detective Branch of police, said Kohinoor Begum.

Contacted, SP Elias Sharif said the process of submitting the charge sheet was taking some time 'to make justice'.

If the probe body found the four policemen guilty, they would be made accused in the case, he added.
