at a prize giving ceremony held in Khulna Saint Joseph High School's auditorium. The winning students received a bronze medal each.

Earlier, some 500 students from 25 high schools of Khulna, Jessore and Bagerhat districts attended a test featuring general grammar questions, sentence structure, word composition and comprehension and a listening test.

Anis Mahmud, deputy commissioner of Khulna, was present as the chief guest while TM Jakir Hossain, deputy director of the Directorate of Secondary and Higher Education, Khulna, was the special guest.

Dr Salehuddin Ahmed, managing editor of The Daily Star, and Arifur Rahman, area manager of Robi, Khulna district, were also present at the ceremony.

Hazaribagh

The relocation process was stalled time and again in the face of owners' resistance.

According to a report published last year by Zurich-based Green Cross Switzerland and New York-based Blacksmith Institute, Hazaribagh is the fifth most polluted place on earth.

Teachers and students from Buet, Kyushu University, Texas A&M University, Virginia Tech University and Chinese Cultural University of Taiwan, and architects, planners and engineers will work to find out solutions to regenerate living in what is now considered a "Brownfield." The findings will be placed to the government.

dumping crushed stones on land belonging to the forest department.

He blamed insufficient manpower for failing to protect the huge forests of the area.

Mir Nizam Uddin, sub-divisional engineer at Roads and Highways Department, said they have requested higher-ups several times to remove the crushers occupying land of the department.

Contacted, Iftekhar Kabir, additional chief engineer of Roads and Highways Department, Sylhet Zone said they have discussed the matter at a meeting last month and will take action soon.

Shah Shaheda Akhtar, regional coordinator of Bela, said these crushers are depleting the forest and destroying the natural beauty of Jaflong.

talked about his personal experience and highlighted many issues, including his upbringing, family, politics, the formation of Chhatra League and Awami League, Language Movement and Jukta Front's election in 1954.

NCTB Chairman Prof Abul Kashem Mia said the HSC students would follow the syllabus until the change of their present curriculum.

The national textbook expert committee, comprised of noted educationalists, has selected the prose and poems for the HSC students, he added.

Govt to boost manpower

5,000 workers between April last year and July this year.

After today's discussion, a bigger target will be set, said the secretary. The meeting will focus on sending domestic helps because the demand for them is increasing in that country, he said.

Few Bangladeshi workers are being sent to Malaysia nowadays. Only 6,520 female workers have migrated in the last seven years since 2007, according to the Bureau of Manpower, Employment and Training.

Prof Tasneem Siddiqui, founder chairperson of RMMRU, which is working for migrants' rights, said, "I think the government should find an alternative mechanism to send workers, as the G-to-G process has proved unsuccessful. The recruiting agencies can be directly involved in the process after giving strict conditions to them."

Manpower export to Malaysia had been banned for around four years from 2009, due to anomalies in the recruitment process by private recruiting agencies. The ban was withdrawn in 2012 before the two governments signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU).

Around five lakh Bangladeshis are currently working in Malaysia.

Hajj agencies exempted
