

BILL FOR JUDGES' IMPEACHMENT Fakhrul sees signs of one-party rule

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

BNP Acting Secretary General Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir yesterday said the government's approval to the bill on the impeachment of Supreme Court judges shows it is heading towards a one-party rule.

"This government is trying to re-establish 'Baksal' [Bangladesh Krishak Sramik Awami League] in the country by approving an amendment proposal that empowers the parliament to impeach the Supreme Court judges," he said after placing wreaths at BNP founder Ziaur Rahman's grave at Sher-e-Bangla Nagar in the capital.

Swecchhasebik Dal, the volunteer wing of BNP, organised the programme to celebrate its 34th founding anniversary.

The cabinet yesterday approved the sixteenth charter amendment proposal restoring the parliament's authority to impeach the Supreme Court judges for misconduct or incapacity.

Fakhrul blasted the government for the National Broadcast Policy 2014 saying that it has curtailed the Country's first chromosome research centre opens at DU

DU CORRESPONDENT

Dhaka University's botany department yesterday inaugurated the country's first Chromosome Research Centre which will help develop improved varieties of livestock and fish.

The director of the centre, Prof Sheikh Shamimul Alam, said, "Earlier, we had to cross match the chromosomes without knowing similarities of the two parents in order to bring out an improved variety. But now we can also find out the dissimilarities."

"So, the centre will certainly save our time in hybridisation process. Besides, we can know the detail features of chromosomes of any species," he added.

This centre will help examine different types of genetic disorders and

BSMMU to start bone marrow transplant soon

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujib Medical University (BSMMU) will "soon" launch a bone marrow transplantation unit.

"The unit will be the first in the country to conduct the complicated allogeneic bone marrow transplants," said Md. Salahuddin Shah, secretary general of Bangladesh Society of Haematology (BSH), at a seminar on Bone Marrow Transplantation organised by BSH at Dhaka Club yesterday.

But BSMMU Pro-Vice Chancellor Md Shahidullah Sikder could not specify any date for launching the unit.

He also said the authorities were planning to establish the unit about two years ago but it was cancelled at the last moment.

In his presentation, Salahuddin said it is estimated that every year about 8,000-10,000 people die of blood cancer and other blood disorders in the country while another 12,000 are affected by blood disorders.

The facility would be able to treat many of those patients, with the cost ranging between Tk 10 and 20 lakh," he added.

Mentioning that at least four percent of the country's population are affected by Thalassaemia, he further said only allogeneic bone marrow transplants can cure them.

Allogeneic transplant is the process, in which stem cells of

WHEN LAW ENFORCERS DON'T CARE

A police pickup getting on Kazi Nazrul Islam Avenue from the wrong lane on the road in front of Khamarbari in the capital yesterday, encouraging a row of errant vehicle drivers to do the same, which ends up blocking the traffic going in the lawful direction, and creating a gridlock. But the driver of the pickup does not care. Who would punish him/her? After all he/she is a "law enforcer"!

RAPE OF ADIVASI WOMEN'S LEADER JS body demands arrest of rapists

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The parliamentary caucus on indigenous affairs yesterday raised a four-point demand, including the arrest of the people who tortured and raped an indigenous woman, also an elected union representative of Gomostapur upazila in Chapainawabganj, early this month.

The three other points of the demand, raised during a press conference at Jatiya Sangsad Media Centre, include recognition of the traditional land rights of indigenous people, formation of a land commission for plain land Adivasis, and passage of a law on the rights of all indigenous communities in Bangladesh.

At the briefing, Fazle Hossain Badsha, convener of the parliamentary caucus, shared their first-hand experiences of visiting the scene of the torture.

The indigenous woman was attacked on August 6, while she was working in her field. Badsha said, "We don't want to know their [perpetrators'] political identity."

BGB-BSF TALKS India may address border killings

OUR CORRESPONDENT, New Delhi

India is expected to address Bangladesh's concerns over killing of the latter's nationals along the border by listing the measures, including deployment of more non-lethal weapons to bring down casualty figures, during the biannual talks between BGB and BSF in New Delhi from Thursday.

The delegation of the Border Guards Bangladesh (BGB) will reach the Indian capital tomorrow for the five-day talks with their counterparts in the Border Security Force (BSF).

The two teams, to be led by their directors general, are expected to discuss border security, safety of border residents, and illegal activities along the over 4,000km frontier.

Although the issue of Felani killing is not on the agenda, BGB is likely to flag it during the meeting, when BSF is to
