The Beginning
I used to visit Natok Para in Bailey Road regularly, as I loved watching plays, when one day I realised that I was meant to be here, this was my beckoning. That, I guess, was the beginning of my acting dreams.

Your Inspiration
My love for acting keeps me inspired to deliver my best. I act for myself; my passion for acting keeps me inspired.

If You Could Change One Thing about Dhaka
The mentality of Dhakaities. Whether we are literate or not, we tend to disobey every rule that has been made to improve our lives. I wish we could change our self-destructive attitude.

Childhood Dream
My dream was never confined to any single profession. Be it a footballer or a pilot, I wanted to be everything.

Significant Achievement
I am hale and healthy and happy. That's the most significant achievement of my life.

One Quality that Every Scriptwriter Should Have
Writing script is a complicated process and there is no single recipe to be a competent scriptwriter. A scriptwriter needs to understand life. They need to be observant and have their own philosophy and way of thinking.
