Alan Turing biopic "The Imitation Game" has won the People's Choice award at the Toronto Film Festival. Sherlock star Benedict Cumberbatch stars in the drama about the British code breaker who helped decrypt the Enigma machine during World War Two.

In a message, director Morten Tyldum said it was "an amazing honour" to win the prize.

Sir Ben Kingsley's romantic comedy "Learning to Drive", in which the actor stars as a Sikh taxi driver and driving instructor alongside Patricia Clarkson, was named first runner-up at the fest.

IT'S TRUE!

There was a time when Bollywood superstar Hrithik Roshan was a chain smoker. He kicked the cigarette butt after reading Alan Carr's "Easy Way To Stop Smoking". And guess what? Hrithik not only quit the cancer stick, but also helped his friends do the same by distributing copies of the same book among his friends.

DESH belongs to Bangladesh

...Akram Khan

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Just three days in the countdown to his grand show, internationally acclaimed dancer/choreographer Akram Khan, at a press conference, said, "DESH belongs to Bangladesh."

A press conference focusing on DESH was held yesterday at Bengal Shilpalaya in Dhamondi, Dhaka. The British Council, in partnership with the Bengal Foundation and Bangladesh Shilpkala Academy (BSA) worked together to invite and host DESH onto the Bangladeshi stage.

Robin Davies, Director of Programme and Partnership, British Council; Luva Nahid Choudhury, Director General of Bengal Foundation; Liaquat Ali Lucky, Director General of BSA; noted cultural personality Nasiruddin Yousuff and Akram Khan were present at the press conference.

Akram's relationship with Bangladesh is special. He said, "Performing in Bangladesh is a great pleasure for me as well as my mother. I was born and brought up in London but my parents are from Bangladesh. I am connected to Bangladesh through them. The country comes alive to me through the stories and memories shared by them.

"In my childhood my mother never talked to me in English and it was when I was in grade 10 that I learnt that my mother spoke English. Thus my parents forced me to learn Bangla. Bangladeshis carry their memories and culture wherever they go. None of my childhood heroes belonged to Bangladesh and I was brought up as British person, but I ended up becoming the person I never wanted to be. Now I teach my daughter Bangla. DESH is a query, which leads to many more queries. It is a drama that belongs here."

Luva Nahid Choudhury also spoke about their initiative to bring the show in Bangladesh, saying, "Practicing arts and culture gives one an opportunity to discover their inner selves. Akram Khan is a Bangladeshi, though he is a British citizen, he will uphold his identity as a Bangladeshi through his performance. We had to work hard to prepare for the show in Bangladesh since this is a highly technical performance. We had to change and upgrade many things so that we could host the show. We have a lot to learn from this performance. Bengal Foundation is happy to be a part of the initiative."

Liaquat Ali Lucky said, "Shilpkala Academy is glad that it is hosting Akram's first ever show in Bangladesh. For DESH, we made the best preparations despite our limitations. We cannot hold such a high-quality performance often and DESH will definitely have a positive impact on our cultural arena. Many young activists also took part in the workshops on DESH and this will tremendously inspire them. We hope Akram will work as a cultural ambassador to place our culture on the global stage."

"Because of space limitations, Akram Khan couldn't bring his entire team. The show is highly technical and cannot even be held in India since they don't have the necessary infrastructure. We are happy that Akram's technical director approved BSA for the show," said Nasiruddin Yousuff.

DESH is set to be staged on September 18 and 19 at the National Theatre Hall of Shilpkala Academy.

The Daily Star, The Daily Prothom Alo and Channel i are media partners of the event.

Pandit Tushar Dutta fascinates audience at IGCC

ZAHANGIR ALOM

Indira Gandhi Cultural Centre (IGCC) in association with Asian Paints, IRCON and Marico Bangladesh organised an evening of classical music by Pandit Tushar Dutta on September 12 at the Indira Gandhi Cultural Centre (IGCC), Gulshan.

Pandit Tushar Dutta started off his khyal performance set on an evening raga Puria Dhaneshree. His vilambit bandish "E Bali Bali Jaoon" (on vilambit ektala) evoked Radha's excitement and pining for a tryst with Krishna, while his drut bandish "Payelia Jhankar" (on teentaal) performance had a similar theme.

Pandit Tushar Dutta beautified his rendition with styling exquisite bol, batt, bistar, 16-guna speedy a-kar taan, soulful pukar, meend and murki. What made his performance unique is his fashioning melodic game with a combination of several notes. The way the artiste presented the musical phrases aptly expressed Radha's emotive plea.

Tushar Dutta next performed a soothing teentaal bandish "Dasan Motiyan Ki Lagi", set on Raga Abhogi. Romance coupled with melodic sweetness reigned supreme in his performance. And last not but the least the Pandit performed a Nazrul Sangeet "Shawon Asilo Phirey" on kaharba taal. Goutam Sarker on tabla, Alok Kumar Sen on Harmonium and Dr. Jagodananda Roy and Tasauf Islam on Tanpura accompanied the Pandit.

The distinct and mellifluous blend of Kirana and Agra Gharana in his renditions is indeed remarkable. A perfect balance between emotional and technical qualities characterises his musical creations. He was awarded the National Scholarship from the Ministry of Culture, Govt. of India. Tushar is the "Top Grade" artiste in the All India Radio.

Pandit Tushar Dutta is among the most celebrated vocalists of Kolkata. Born in a musical family of Natore, Bangladesh, Tushar started learning the fundamentals of Indian Classical music from Pt. Bimal Mitra of Durgapur at an early age. Groomed at the famous ITC-Sangeet Research Academy, as a scholar, he took lessons from Pt. A Kanan and Pt. Arun Bhaduri, Pt. Sunil Bose, Pt. K.G. Ginde of Agra Gharana.

He has performed at almost every prestigious music conference all over the India. He has over 50 recorded discs in his repertoire published from different companies.
