

LS PICK

EASYON the eyes

They say the eyes are the windows to the soul. And it never hurts to have fancy windows, in case Romeo finally decides to make an appearance and calls you from below. Bengali women already have a lot going for them in the eye department, with those big doe eyes and the mile-long lashes. Here's how to dress them up real nice so they're fit for poetry.

