BDR CARNAGE CASE

Case book nearly ready

HC to start hearing in a month

ASHUTOSH SARKAR

The High Court may start hearing on death references and appeals in the BDR carnage case in a month, as the court authorities have already prepared the paper-book of the case. The enormous book contains around 47,000 pages.

A paper-book contains all the details of a case, trial proceedings, statements, evidence, verdicts and other documents. The book is necessary for the HC to hear and dispose of a death reference or an appeal.

Now, the authorities will initially print at least 33 copies of the paper-book. These copies then will be served to the court, judges and lawyers concerned of the biggest-ever criminal case in the country's history in terms of the number of accused and convicts.

The copies are expected to be ready in a few weeks, acting Supreme Court registrar SM Kuddus Zaman told The Daily Star yesterday.

The paper-book copies will then be placed before the HC

EBOLA MENACE

Asia's concern poor health systems

AP, Singapore

The longer the Ebola outbreak rages in West Africa, the greater chance a traveller infected with the virus touches down in an Asian city.

How quickly any case is detected - and the measures taken once it is - will determine whether the virus takes hold in a region where billions live in poverty and public health systems are often very weak.

Governments are ramping up response plans, stepping up surveillance at airports and considering quarantine measures. Still, health experts in the region's less developed countries fear any outbreak would be deadly and hard to contain.

"This is a non-treatable disease with a very high mortality rate. And even a country like the United Chinese artist Han Xiaoming has great 'taste' in art -- he actually uses his tongue as a brush to create paintings! Luckily, he doesn't use oil paints or acrylic, just sweetened food dye.
