INDIAN SUPER LEAGUE
Goa win finally
GOAL.COM

Tolgay Ozbey and Jewel Raja came to FC Goa's rescue as they scored twice in the second half to help their side down Delhi Dynamos 2-1 after trailing by a Mads Junker goal for most of the game.

With this result, Harm van Veldhoven's side unbeaten streak in the Indian Super League (ISL) came to an end as Goa became the final team to have registered a win in the competition.

Zico made as many as five changes to his line-up with Jewel Raja, Miroslav Slepicka, Romeo Fernandes, Mandar Rao Dessai and goalkeeper Jan Seda making their way in while Miguel Herlein, Ranti Martins, Laxmikant Kattimani, Gabriel Fernandes and Peter Carvalho being left out.

Harm van Veldhoven introduced Stijn Houben, Morten Skoubo and Francis Fernandes with Wim Raymaekers, Alessandro Del Piero and Steven Dias benched.

Goa had a brilliant start with Prabir Das hitting the woodwork and Andre Santos' left-footed volley going inches wide in the first five minutes.

However, it was Delhi who took the lead in the seventh minute. Hans Mulder spread out a beautiful through ball to Bruno Arias who found Mads Junker with a first-time cross. The Dane's left-footed attempt was going away from goal, but he did just enough to guide the ball in with his second touch.

Chelsea survive QPR scare

AFP, London

Eden Hazard's penalty enabled Chelsea to preserve their four-point lead in the Premier League with a narrow 2-1 win at home to local rivals Queens Park Rangers on Saturday.

Diego Costa returned for Chelsea after four games out with hamstring trouble and he saw his side take a 32nd-minute lead when Cesc Fabregas teed up Oscar to bend in an exquisite shot with the outside of his right foot.

Charlie Austin equalised for QPR just after the hour when he beat Thibaut Courtois with a clever back-heel from Leroy Fer's cross-shot to claim his third goal in two games.

But Hazard gave Chelsea victory in the 75th minute when he calmly beat Rob Green from 12 yards after he had gone down under a challenge by Eduardo Vargas.

the Champions League on Wednesday, to preserve their four-point advantage over second-place Southampton, who won 1-0 at Hull City.

Kenyan midfielder Victor Wanyama scored the game's only goal in the third minute at the KC Stadium, brilliantly lobbing Eldin Jakupovic from 40 yards after the Hull goalkeeper scuffed his clearance.

Arsenal climbed into the Champions League places after Alexis Sanchez scored twice in a 3-0 success at home to winless bottom club Burnley.

Defender Calum Chambers crossed for Sanchez to head Arsenal in front in the 70th minute and smashed home his first senior goal two minutes later after Tom Heaton parried a shot by Danny Welbeck.

Sanchez added a third in injury time from a Kieran Gibbs cross.

Arsene Wenger's side, who welcomed Theo Walcott back from a long-term knee injury, moved into fourth place at the expense of West Ham United, who came from two goals down to record a 2-2 draw at Stoke City.

Earlier, Liverpool slumped to their fourth defeat of the season as Spanish substitute Ayoze Perez earned in-form Newcastle United a 1-0 victory at St James' Park.

Liverpool, for whom striker Mario Balotelli endured another frustrating afternoon, were beaten when Alberto Moreno failed to clear and Perez pounced to lash home in the 73rd minute.

Hulk defends Brazil absence

AFP, Rio de Janeiro

Brazil forward Hulk has defended his absence from the national squad for his country's first post-World Cup friendlies under new coach Dunga, who appears to have frozen him out for missing the games in September.

Dunga, who replaced Luiz Felipe Scolari in July after Brazil's World Cup semifinal drubbing by Germany when Hulk was substituted at half-time, called up the 28-year-old Zenit St Petersburg forward for September games against Colombia and Ecuador.

Hulk cried off with a thigh injury but was soon back in action with his Russian club, although he told newspaper Estado de Sao Paulo on Saturday that he had simply made a quicker recovery than expected.

"I felt a muscle behind my left thigh on August 31 and called Dunga to tell him what had happened. I asked if he wanted me to come to Brazil to be examined by team doctors but he said no, preferring me to have tests in Russia and to send the results to the Brazilian Confederation (CBF)," he said. "The test showed an injury normally needing four to six weeks treatment and that was passed on to the CBF.

"Thank God I recovered very quickly," he added, saying he had been having nine hours of treatment a day in Russia.

"I was back in training on the 10th and played against Dynamo Moscow on the 13th. Someone passed incorrect information to Dunga saying I was already back on the sixth," a day after Brazil's friendly win over Colombia.

Since Hulk's injury Dunga has not called him into squads for friendlies in Asia and nor is he in the frame for friendlies against Austria and Turkey this month with the likes of Douglas Costa, Roberto Firmino and Luiz Adriano preferred.

Lamenting an apparent "misunderstanding" Hulk said: "If I am out on technical grounds then I must respect that and work all the harder to get another chance."

"I repeat, when I came back for Zenit, the Selecao had already played the two games" for which he was initially called up.

"Dunga was the first coach to call me into the national squad" in 2009, during the latter's first spell in charge.

"I have great respect for him and I want to get back to the Selecao and play the next World Cup," Hulk concluded.

Banned for 50 years

INTERNET

A footballer in Switzerland has been slapped with a 50-year ban from playing the game after a remarkable incident with a referee.

Ricardo Ferreira of Portugal Futebol Clube was an unused substitute for his side in their 1-0 defeat by SC Worb in the Bern league, but he still managed to make quite an impact.

Ferreira, according to Swiss newspaper Blick, kicked the ball in the referee's face and then proceeded to spray him with water.

That response came while he was busy hurling insults at the official as he left to depart down the tunnel at full-time.

As for why the ban is so long for the offence, the lawyer of Switzerland's amateur football league attempted to explain.

"We do not want such a player in our league," said Robert Breiter, the lawyer of Switzerland's amateur football league.

"Unfortunately we encounter such cases about once a year."

As for Ferreira, he was left utterly bewildered by the whole situation and was left sounding pretty distraught.

"I had expected one or two years maximum. But 50 years? Football's my life," he said.

Fed takes it positively

AFP, Paris

Roger Federer believes his Paris Masters quarterfinal exit will have little effect on his season-ending assault on the World Tour Finals and a first Davis Cup title.

The 33-year-old, 17-time Grand Slam winner is set to lose ground on Novak Djokovic in the race for the year-ending world number one spot after his straight sets loss to Milos Raonic in the French capital.

But he believes the extra rest he will gain after his Friday's setback can work in his favour ahead of the eight-man London finale before he leads Switzerland against France in the Davis Cup final.

"I'm going to keep playing on indoor courts [instead of clay, the surface for the Davis Cup final in Lille] for now. I mean, obviously two days more rest is big right now," said Federer, whose 14-match winning streak was snapped by Raonic.

Higuain leads Napoli

REUTERS, Milan

Napoli's Gonzalo Higuain scored early with an acrobatic volley, his fifth goal in three league games, to set them on the way to a convincing 2-0 win over sluggish AS Roma in Serie A on Saturday.

Higuain, who missed a stoppage time penalty in Wednesday's 1-1 draw at Atalanta, also set up the second for Spanish forward Jose Callejon who atoned for a miss earlier in the second half.

Napoli, who have picked up speed after a slow start to the campaign, hit the woodwork twice as they moved up to third place on 18 points from 10 games, four behind Juventus and AS Roma.

Napoli went ahead in the third minute when Lorenzo Insigne's long-range effort was deflected off a defender and Higuain, with his back to the ball, leapt to spectacularly hook the ball into the net.

Callejon and Marek Hamsik both hit the crossbar as Napoli continued to dominate while Roma struggled to get into gear.

Although Roma dominated early in the second half, Napoli should have gone further ahead when Kalidou Koulibaly powered down the right and laid a pass into the path of Callejon.

The Spaniard dinked the ball over Morgan De Sanctis but his effort was so delicate that Radja Nainggolan had time to get to the ball before it reached the line and hoofed it away.
