

The End of a River

Jhenidah. Lack of government initiatives to dredge the Kapotakkho river, flowing through Jhenidah's Moheshpur upazila, has shrunk it to the size of a mere canal, reducing the availability of fish, in turn affecting the livelihoods of communities along its banks.

Rotten Onions

Pabna. The wholesale market at Sujanager in Pabna district sees huge quantity of rotten onions as farmers are in a hurry to sell off the vegetable preserved from last season's harvest that started rotting earlier than expected.

Stop the Madness

Missouri, United States. A woman protests the death of 18-year-old Michael Brown in Ferguson, Missouri.

Pride

Bangalore, India. An Indian transgender activist blows bubbles during the annual Bengaluru Pride March in Bangalore on November 23.

Cosmic Blessings

A Russian. Orthodox priest blesses the Soyuz TMA-15M spacecraft at the launch pad of the Russian-leased Baikonur cosmodrome.

130,000

Euros at which a watercolour of Munich's old city hall believed to have been painted by Hitler was sold at an auction in Germany.

39

Years two US men stayed behind bars before all charges against them were dismissed after a witness said his testimony was 'all lies'. The two men faced death penalty for a 1975 murder.

48

Number of fish vendors killed by Boko Haram gunmen in Nigeria. The insurgents stopped the convoy of fishermen around midday, slaughtering some of them and drowning others in a lake.